Battle over Low-Income Housing to Continue

Opponents of a low income housing project proposed for the Township are expected to roll out their heavy ammunition this Thursday at 8 p.m. before the Zoning Board. The meeting, to be held in Community Park school, is a carry-over from the opening session last week.

The Housing Authority of the Borough, acting as the Township's agent, needs a use variance and several other variances in order to build 100 units of housing on 14.5 acres of land on Ewing between State Road and Mt. Lucas Road.

At last Thursday's meeting, the Authority began to present its case, marshalled by attorney Thomas C. Jamieson Jr. A court stenographer swore in each Authority witness.

However, the Authority's experts went into such painstaking detail and zoning board members asked so many questions — perhaps stung by Township Committee's recent action in sending back the Kopp apartment case to the zoners for more information — that the Authority hadn't finished when board chairman Everett Garretson gavelled the meeting closed at the pre-arranged 11 p.m. hour.

More to Come. This Thursday, the Authority is expected to present its last two witnesses: real estate appraiser Ridgely Cook and urban planner Alvin Gershon. Then presumably, the opponents will lay their case before the board, starting with a petition of opposition signed, so far, by 135 people.

As described by Authority spokesmen, the new project would have its only access road on Mt. Lucas. The one and two-story stucco and shingle buildings would be divided into two clusters on the 14-acre wooded site. The 50 units for the elderly would be one-story structures located on the

To Re-Study Housing

Princeton University said this week that it will hold off for a time on its plan to build 270 apartments for middle and low-income families in the Springdale area.

John P. Moran, the University's general manager for physical planning, has written Township Mayor John D. Wallace that decision to review the proposals will delay "for some months" any application to various local boards for approval.

The University, Mr. Moran explained, wants to examine the most appropriate methods in finance, management and sponsorship for the project.

He assured the mayor that the University will consult with townspeople and governing bodies as the review proceeds.

southern side near Ewing, where the plot isn't so steep. The area is also near a proposed corner bus-stop at Mt. Lucas and Ewing which will be used if Mercer Metro expands its bus service to that part of town.

Most of these units — 30 of them — would be efficiency apartments; 18 would have one bedroom and two would have two bedrooms.

The 50 family units would be on the other side of the plot, separated from the elderly section by the swath of Transcontinental's pipeline. These two-story buildings would consist of ten one-bedroom apartments; 18 three-bedroom; 20 two-bedroom and a pair of four-bedroom units.

According to John Tague Jr. of Ewing, Cole, Erdman and Eubank, architects for the project, buildings cover 8 and one-half percent of the site, with a floor-area ratio of slightly over 15 percent.

The family section has 69 parking spaces, the elderly portion 26. A cleared area in the woods would be used for a play area.

Safety Factor. Questions about the safety of the gas pipeline were directed to William Nix, engineer specializing in natural gas pipelines. After a detailed, technical description of pipe construction and safety precautions, Mr. Nix told the Zoning Board he saw no safety hazard if the housing were constructed.

When Mr. Garretson asked about the safety of playgrounds, Mr. Nix replied, "They couldn't possibly hurt the pipeline."

Robert R. Jamieson, engineer with Van Note, Harvey, told the board that construction would raise run-off from the site from its present 8.3 cubic feet per second at the Mt. Lucas-Ewing intersection to 19.5 cubic feet.

Donald Harney, engineer for Princeton's Sewer Operating Committee, has said the project can be served by existing sanitary sewers, Mr. Jamieson said. But Mr. Garretson asked for additional data on the impact of Princeton Community Housing's 240 units on the area's sewers.

Traffic Count Estimated. Traffic counts were presented by Herbert J. Klar, traffic engineer, to show that the project would have, in Mr. Klar's words, "minimal impact" on Mt. Lucas and Ewing traffic.

South-bound on Mt. Lucas, traffic flow would be less than one car per minute at peak hours, he said. In response to questioning, he said that evening, home-bound traffic going up Mt. Lucas to make a left turn at the project's intersection about 400 feet from Ewing, would not cause traffic to back up to Ewing.

Again Mr. Garretson referred to POH and asked about the combined POH project flow. The POH project will be entered from the forthcoming "J" Road, off North Harrison and Terhune.

Karin Slaby, executive director of the Housing Authority, told the board that the project has preliminary approval from the Federal Housing and Urban Development agency and is now in final review.

She testified that 110 people, including 74 elderly, were now on a public-housing waiting list. Under the Authority's policy, as suggested by HUD, Township residents would be given first priority for the new apartments, and Borough residents second.

Lists Up to Date. Later, Mrs. Slaby told reporters that her waiting lists are reviewed each year to make sure they are "active."

The Housing Authority currently has 120 units in Princeton, she said: 50 for the elderly on Harrison Street, and 70 for families.

Agenda. "I hope everyone in Princeton who supports this

Post 76 Names 1st Woman Commander

Mrs. Georgia L. Johnson, Northgate Apartments, Cranbury, has been elected the first commander of Princeton Post 76, American Legion, in its 53-year history. A veteran of World War II, Mrs. Johnson served in the Army Nurse Corps, spending a part of her time in service with the 348th General Hospital in the Philippines.

A native of Glen Morgan, W. Va., Mrs. Johnson received her RN from Raleigh General Hospital, Beckley, W. Va. For the past 17 years, she has been the nurse in the West Windsor - Plainsboro Regional School District.

Mrs. Johnson and the new slate of officers who will direct the Legion Post's affairs for the coming year were scheduled to be installed at ceremonies this Wednesday. The Post 76 Home is located at 95 Washington Road, Princeton Junction.

project will come to Thursday night's meeting," Mrs. Slaby said in a statement this week. Opponents will make four main points says James Pietrinferno of Mt. Lucas Road. First, they will question the need, citing PCH's 240 units and the University's announced 270 units; second, they will charge that the project and the Edward Kopp privately-developed proposal, constitute spot zoning, and they will suggest that this is not good planning.

"We think a committee should be set up to discuss multi-family housing in Princeton," Mr. Pietrinferno says. He believes the Planning Board's housing sub-committee is dealing only with need and not with actual planning of space, traffic, or sewers.

Third, according to Mr. Pietrinferno, the opponents will ask how the Authority can legally give first or second priorities to Princeton residents when the project is to be financed by Federal funds.

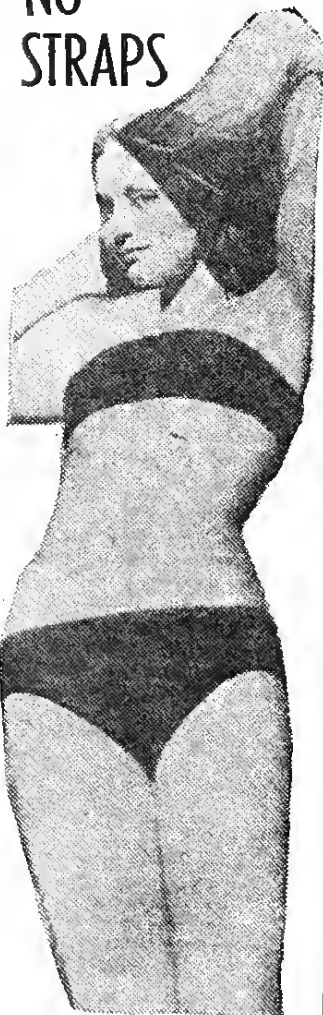

"Somebody from New York might apply here, be rejected, and take the question to court," Mr. Pietrinferno suggests.

Fourth, the opponents will warn that the whole northeast quadrant of the Township could become a "city" unless Princeton's remaining land is subject to planning.

He said many opponents would like to see small housing areas scattered throughout the Township. He suggested that the two-acre Kopp land might, for example, hold seven units per acre instead of the approximately 16 currently proposed.

Mr. Pietrinferno denied that opponents of the project were motivated by racial concerns. "We're integrated up here on Mr. Lucas, with an ethnic mix," he says.

Borough Bar Owners Ask Council for 2 a.m. Closing, Sunday Hours

Owners of bars in the Borough appeared with attorney Gordon C. Strauss before Borough Council on Thursday to request that they be allowed to serve customers until around 2 a.m., the closing hour of most bars in neighboring communities.

"We're not anxious to bring problems to the town, but to have the option to stay open when we have a good night, not to have to say, 'the bar is closed at midnight,'" they said.

They noted that on Sundays, liquor can be served only in connection with a meal. Rich McCluskey of the Ivy Inn suggested Sunday hours of 1 to 10 p.m. "especially in the winter time when there's football to watch."

Mr. Strauss reported to Council on his survey of licensing fees in neighboring communities, which range from $450 in Ewing Township to $1,030 in Princeton Township. Borough bar owners pay $1,714. "It looks like we're not getting a fair shake in return for this fee," said one.

The owners feel that their patrons drive on to out-of-town bars when the Borough bars close at midnight. "Even the Township is open until 2 a.m. And in the near future the 18-year-olds will be able to drink in the bars and it is suggested that it would be better that they be able to drink in the Borough where they can walk, rather than drive."

Mayor Robert Cawley told the group, "I think it's obvious that there are some citizens who would support you and some who would not." He promised a public hearing.

Corner House. Council approved an emergency resolution in support of "Corner House." The Borough and Township will each pay $16,205 for operations to the end of the year. The total cost next year is expected to be more than $40,000, according to Councilman Charles Cornforth, who presented the resolution.

Corner House will be the umbrella unit for anti-drug work in the two municipalities. Mr. Cornforth said there is a possibility of Federal aid.

The resolution was a companion to the Township action of last week, and Mrs. Barbara Smoyer of Township Committee and Mrs. Nancy Gryzbeck, Corner House's director pro tem, appeared in support.

Mrs. Kathy Edwards asked that the IAP premises be policed "for dirt and filth." Marvin Trotman requested that the Corner House opening for a social worker be publicly advertised.

Councilman Joseph Moore, who has served on the Intergovernmental Drug Committee since its inception, reminded Council that the policy has been from the start to emphasize the role of the municipalities in combating drugs and also the role of Princeton Medical Center, "which has not played a role in the drug situation at all."

Borough Council re-appointed William R. Armiger to the Recreation Department advisory board. Henry Arnold and Mrs. Denise Reed were named to the Conservation Committee. The ordinance authorizing a bond issue for a $42,000 pump-out for the Fire Department passed on its second reading. Councilman Martin Lombardo noted that the new truck will complete the modernization program.

Council approved the offer of settlement for $62,500 of claims against the company that installed the unsuccessful pollution snuffer at the Borough incinerator. The offer was relayed by Borough Attorney Gordon Griffin, who said it had been approved by the Township and University. The Borough is now compacting solid waste and trucking it to Mt. Holly. Councilman Tom Cawley said.

In response to a complaint by Mrs. Inez Hines, the Borough is investigating playground sandbox pollution by dogs and cats and is considering installing tops to the boxes.

It also agreed to a variance approved by the Zoning Board for the conversion of the Bryan Campbell dwelling at 14 Jefferson Road into a two-family residence. A one-story addition will be constructed to convert the first floor into a retirement home for Mrs. Campbell's parents.

Recreation. Mr. Lombardo, who holds the recreation portfolio on Council, reported at length on plans to hold playground hearings where parents and youth may air suggestions.

He noted that the Borough gym is to be turned over to the Recreation Department, adding that there are already programs there. His aim, he said, is to develop the gym as a community center for use 12 months of the year when heat, light and plumbing are installed. He appealed for volunteers in these fields to donate their skills.

Mr. Lombardo also called Council's attention to the County's "massive recreation program on 3,000 acre Assunpink Park and at Rosedale Park in Hopewell Township, which fills all the things we are going to build on Route 206 . . . I don't think the town should put in facilities that nearly duplicate the County plans."

He said that the County program, six miles from Princeton, would feature a 200-acre lake, stadium, arena, theatre, golf center, horseback riding, trails, children's recreation area, facilities for senior citizens and more. He suggested that Princeton might install more ball fields and a rink, and that it return Green Acres money to the State.

Aid for Elderly Needed. He said that Princeton needs a "massive program" for the elderly, and complained that the Borough and Township have not been able to get together, although both municipalities have agreed to share costs equally. He hopes that a program will start by September 1.

Among the financial matters brought forth by Councilman Cornforth, the parking meter take is $7,000 ahead of last year. The application of Morris Maple to take over the Pink Elephant's liquor license was approved, effective July through next June.

While the matter is being taken up with the state, the Borough will install a crossing guard, and investigate the poor alignment of the street and the fence that presently obstructs vision.

A parent who's child had been thrown off the playgrounds for the balance of the summer was told by Council that the matter should be reviewed by the Recreation Board's management committee. He was referred to Donald Barr, recreation director.

WILL PCH DIE?

Two Months Left, Princeton Community Housing's three years of effort toward low and middle-income housing in the Township may come to nothing unless state and Federal authorities move faster than they have so far.

PCH has an option to buy 35 acres off Terhune Road from William Hahn of Morrisville, but the option expires October 8. PCH officials say Mr. Hahn has indicated that he won't extend the deadline. PCH needs $158,000 from the New Jersey Housing Finance Agency to buy the land.

"We can't find a reason for the delay," said Theodore Vial, chairman of PCH, this week after another trip to Trenton to confer with HFA officials. "They tell us they're working at full steam, and they've always known about the option date."

Township Mayor John D. Wallace said he conferred this Tuesday with Lawrence F. Kramer, Commissioner of Community Affairs in an effort to speed the machinery.

Mr. Kramer told the mayor that HFA officials will meet next Monday with the builder, Lewis C. Bowers and Sons, Inc., to iron out details. HFA also needs approval by Federal Housing and Urban Development officials of two new HUD requirements, Mr. Kramer said.

These relate to a project's racial impact on the community and to the environmental question. They have already been completed by PCH and filed with HUD, the mayor and Mr. Vial said.

PCH is now going directly to HUD officials in Camden to find out where, in the Federal labyrinth, the documents are. If necessary, the mayor said, he will confer with HUD himself.

Relief — But How Much?

Heat wave's broken.
Just a token?

With July not yet over, there's little assurance that the worst of the searing summer heat is a matter of history. But the Man has hopes for the immediate future.

Thursday and Friday should be just about right, as the drier air replaces the high humidity of the past two weeks. It will be a warm weekend, and the thermometer will top the 80-degree mark with consistency, but for right now, things will be a good deal better.

In addition, housing officials want PCH's agreement with Township Committee on taxes. Mr. Vial says he hopes Committee will act on this matter next Monday night. Also, the HFA needs a Committee resolution to clear the way for government rent subsidies.

So far, Mr. Vial says, the HFA still hasn't approved schematic drawings by PCH architects. Part of the delay is a decision on whether to heat townhouses by oil or electricity. PCH would like at least a partial approval, based on the fact that the mid-rise building in the project has a go-ahead. It is thought that these may be the technical matters that will be discussed with the builder on Monday.

BIDS TOO LOW

For Sheehan Building. The partially-completed office building at Nassau and Markham belonging to Timothy J. Sheehan Jr. went on the auction block Monday as part of Mr. Sheehan's bankruptcy troubles.

But the high bid of $180,000 was probably not high enough to be accepted. Arthur Teich, lawyer for Leon Robinson, trustee in the bankruptcy proceedings, said $225,000 to $250,000 would probably be needed for confirmation by the bankruptcy court. The land alone is assessed at $88,800.

Mr. Sheehan also owns 94 acres in the Township in the Cherry Hill Road area and it was up for auction Monday also. The high bidder was the Nassau Capital Corporation, with $476,000. Mr. Teich said he thought the court would confirm that bid.

FINANCING APPROVED

For Open Space Purchase. Federal officials have approved $70,000 for Princeton Township toward purchase of the 6.2 acre strip of land between the canal and Stony Brook now owned by Harold Houghton and Joseph Castoro. Township Mayor John D. Wallace announced this week.

The Township has already received approval from the state for another $70,000, making a package of $140,000. However, Administrator Joseph R. Nini said that the asking price is now over $200,000 and the Township may have to condemn to get the parcel. Committee appropriated $130,000 to buy the property over a year ago — a price based on state estimates.

Township officials say the Federal money, from the Bur-

John Nevius Dodd, the last living alumnus to graduate from the College of New Jersey died Sunday in Hartford, Conn. one day after his 100th birthday.

Mr. Dodd graduated with the Class of 1893, three years before the College of New Jersey was renamed Princeton University. He was officially designated the University's oldest living alumnus in 1967.

Mr. Dodd, who won honors in mathematical sciences upon graduation, was proudest that his class had introduced the University's honor system. The University flag atop Nassau Hall flew at half mast Monday and Tuesday in his memory.

ean of Outdoor Recreation, is the first in New Jersey for land purchase. Funds are normally allocated only for improvement. However, the strip is part of New Jersey's park complex, and it is thought that this influenced the decision.

In another Open Space matter, Mayor John D. Wallace has appointed Mrs. Rosemary O'Brien, Princeton-Kingston Road, to the Conservation Commission. She will fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Margen Penick, and will be appointed by Mayor Wallace to Mrs. Penick's post of chairman of the Commission.

Herbert Kendall has resigned from the Board of Building Appeals, the mayor announced, due to business pressures. No successor has been named.

For Monday Introduction. The revised zoning ordinance for Princeton Township will be introduced by Committee next Monday at 8 p.m. The governing body is holding the meeting July 31 instead of the usual first Monday to ease summertime schedules.

"We want to make sure everyone has a chance to read the ordinance, think about it and let us know what they think," declared Mayor John D. Wallace this week.

Therefore, the Township Planning Board will hold a pair of informal public meetings on the ordinance, one on Monday, August 14 and the other on Monday, September 11, each at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

will not be held by Committee itself until October 2, the mayor said.

Committee will introduce the enabling ordinance for further development of Community Park's south side. Included in the recreation package are two more paddle tennis courts; two bocci courts, two handball courts and a basketball court for a cost of $45,000. The Borough will pay its usual one-third, the Township will be-

Committee will also, on Monday, join the Borough in a Commission on the Aging. It will have ten members, five from each Princeton. No Township appointees will be named until later.

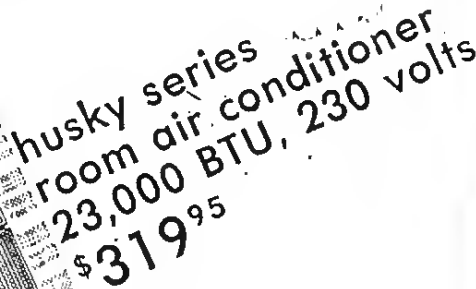

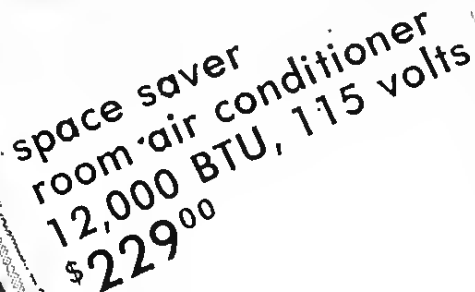

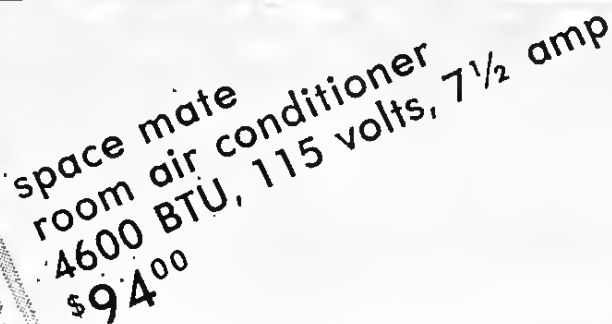

On Assault Charge. John M. Leggi, 22, 168 Alexander Street, was arraigned in Township court last week on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

According to police, Mr. Leiggi threatened Hyette Briscoe Jr., 52 Clearview Avenue, with a knife after an argument erupted between the two men on July 1 in the rear of 53 Clearview. Mr. Briscoe, the complainant, was not injured, police said.

Following his arraignment Mr. Leiggi was held over for action by a grand jury.

A View of China: Charming, Warm, Friendly

"CHOU EN-LAI has a witty, quick mind. He at the same time is a kind of historical monument. He was active in the 1920's. Ho Chi Minh was his friend in Paris," Professor Paul Sigmund says of a six-hour visit with the premier of the People's Republic of China. Above, at the occasion of the Congressional visit, are Ch'iao Kuon-hua, vice-minister of foreign affairs; Professor Sigmund, Mrs. Hale E. Boggs, Chou En-Lai, Premier of the Chinese People's Republic, and Mrs. Gerold Ford.

"The one unfavorable impression I had of China is what has happened to the universities. There is little stimulus," political scientist Paul E. Sigmund of Princeton University said last week. "The people we met were charming, friendly, delightfully open, warm, informative. The food was sensational. We felt a little sad on leaving."

He was a member of the Congressional tour group headed by Majority Leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana and Minority Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan. It was two fast-moving weeks of discussions with leaders and professionals in a trip that included visits to Red Star communes, schools, farms and factories, even the Ming Tombs. The cities touched were Shanghai, Canton, Peking, the steel town of En Shen and former Mukden, now Shenyang, in Manchuria.

"Would I want to live there? No," he said thoughtfully, in his office in Corwin Hall, "but would the Indian or Bolivian peasant want to? Maybe he would — unless religion means a lot to him."

For political scientists, the creaking open of the doors to the Chinese People's Republic offers a fascinating chance to compare three major political turn-arounds of this century: the Russian revolution, now age 55; the Cuban revolution, a fledgling 13, and the new China, where the dateline is the "Liberation of 1949," 23 years ago.

Revolution, Chinese - Style. Professor Sigmund's particular field is Latin America, where in Chile, for instance, the pro-Soviet communists were faced with a pro-China group as early as about 1963.

"The Chinese style of revolution is less violent," he comments. "It has more emphasis on psychological control. Their dedication to work is much different from the Cubans, and they are much stronger against religion than either Cuba or Russia. We were taken to see the film, 'The Girl with the White Hair,' where the villainess was portrayed as a vout Buddhist who beats her servant girl and goes to pray to Buddha."

"The Chinese have more finesse. There are businessmen in China who are handling their own businesses — owned by the state, it's true, but a man can run his business and be paid interest. The Russians have never recognized interest."

Group Pressure. In terms of keeping people in line, he said, China hasn't used concentration camps — although there are the May Seventh Schools where officials have to work in the fields and study the practical application of Mao Tse-tung's sayings to the needs of the peasants and to their own jobs.

"In China, it's group pressure. A man is asked to compare his lot today with 'before the Liberation.' He is asked, 'Are you not grateful to the people and to Chairman Mao?'"

"I learned that group pressure is even used for minor infractions of the law. When I asked, 'What if a man steals a bicycle or breaks a machine?' I was told, 'Then we have a meeting!'"

He visited Sun Yat Sen University in Canton, where there are 550 students, admitted in 1970. Another class is about to be enrolled. Ninety percent of the class comes from peasant background. They had completed the compulsory nine or ten grades of schooling and had worked for several years or more in the fields. Entrance to the university was based upon the favorable impression they made upon their fellow workers and peasant families, who recommended them.

"I attended a class in English, where the students were having difficulty with the language. The class was conducted in Chinese. This was a great contrast with the 8th and 9th grade at a school in a Manchurian industrial town, where very bright children were studying in a class conducted in English.

"What will become of them? They will work in the fields, and perhaps be recommended by the workers to attend the university." He added that entrance examinations have been reinstituted.

"Too Young for Love." Professor Sigmund interviewed some students in the dormitory of Sun Yat Sen University. They were in a room furnished with four double-decker bunks and the students were seated at a table in the center two or three years.

"They told me they were preparing to be literary critics," he said. He asked them reading Mao. College study is if they had special girl friends. "We are too young for that," one replied. "How old are you?" "Twenty-three," the student said.

Professor Sigmund commented, "You wonder if they don't have any doubts about Mao's writings and the Marxist classics. The young people buy it as a whole because of its synthesis with nationalism."

Since urbanization is one of the great problems of the emerging nations, the so-called "Third World," Professor Sigmund visited several Red Star communes where city dwellers are getting a dose of rural life. "Ten million people were sent from the cities to the countryside. The refugees in Hong Kong tended to be either relatives of residents or young people who hated the communes," he noted.

"Observing the Chinese system has posed for me the question of whether in a very underdeveloped society the loss of freedom is a kind of trade-off that is worth it in terms of health, cleanliness, expanded education of a sort (9 to

Pool Shut Down

In the face of sweltering heat Princetonians have temporarily lost their pool, but kept their cool.

The main pump which circulates the water in the main Community Park Pool and the wading pool broke down Sunday night, forcing the closing of the pools Monday and Tuesday. The pools reopened Wednesday morning.

The pump was rushed to the General Electric Co. in Philadelphia for repairs, and work began on it immediately. Recreation Director Donald Barr said people had been "just great" about the problem. This is the first time in five years the pools have been forced to close.

The heat has brought record numbers to the pool. Mr. Barr reported two $1300 — plus weekends in daily admission receipts, the two biggest ever.

10 years of schooling); employment for everybody, and security in that you retire at 70 percent of your wage.

"But when a country moves up, then what? The Russians are at that point now. Divide the gross national product of Russia by its population and you have an income of between $1500 and $2000 per person. In China it is $150. The average factory wage is $30 a month. The next step is what has worried Mao."

SEARS ENTERED AGAIN

Two More TV Sets Taken. For the fourth time since May, the display window at the Sears Store in the Princeton Shopping Center has been broken and two color television sets with a combined value of $738 taken.

Township police report that a piece of concrete was used to smash the window between 2:30 and 3:10 Sunday morning. Sgt. Robert Heacock and Ptl. Howard Sweeney are investigating.

Township police also report that a home on Westerly Road was entered last week and ransacked.

Taken, according to Detective Samuel Bianco, were a complete set of sterling silverware and some jewelry. The value of the missing articles has not yet been determined. A rear door was forced to gain entry. Det. Bianco said.

Borough police report that Dorothea House at 120 John Street was entered last week and ransacked.

The only thing taken, however, was $19 from a safe in the Family Planning Office on the third floor. Lt. Michael Carnevale reported that entry was gained by forcing a door on the north side of the building.

A Wedgwood vase valued at $395 was shoplifted last week from the Cummins Shop, 98 Nassau Street.

Police said that it was removed from a display shelf near the front door between 11 a.m. and 4:05 p.m. last Wednesday.

WHY MONSIEUR! It's William Haatkins, and summer Intime says that what he's doing with Alice White is "rehearsing." Well . . . ! Bath are in "A Flea in Her Ear," due this weekend at Murray Theatre.

News Of The THEATRES

"FLEA IN HER EAR"

Next, at Intime, A French farce, complete with mad Spaniard, up-tight Prussian officers and mistaken identity, will open this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in Murray Theatre as Summer Intime's third production of the season.

The farce will play again this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday at 7:30.

"A Flea in Her Ear," by Georges Feydeau, has more chase scenes in, around, out of, into and through turn-of-the-century Paris than there are squiggles in the Eiffel Tower.

William Hootkins will be Chanderise, the man-about-Paris; Marcia Elian will be his wife and Anne Sheldon will be Olympe, a lady famous for appearing at stag parties wearing only Peach Melba.

AND PETER LORRE
Next, in Film Series, "M".

the 1931 horror film that launched Peter Lorre as a heavy-lidded heavy, will be shown next Monday at 8 p.m. in Summer Intime's Film Festival. All screenings are in McCormick Art Museum, next to Murray Theatre on the University campus.

The following evening, Tuesday, August 1, Intime will show the immortal "Top Hat" with Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers and on Wednesday, August 2, "40 Years of the Great Comedians."

Included in "40 Years" are Buster Keaton in "Cops," W. C. Fields in "The Pharmacist" and the Marx Brothers in "The Incredible Jewel Robbery," their only short film. The final sequence is Peter Sellers and the entire company of the British show, "The Case of the Mukkinese Battle Horn."

STREET THEATRE
"Beginnings" This Weekend. The second Street Theatre production of the summer, "Beginnings," will be given this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. on the front lawn of Princeton High School.

 Friday at the Community Park field by the paddle-tennis courts and on the side lawn of Borough Hall on Saturday. On Sunday, it will be given in Cadwalader Park in Trenton.

In case of rain, all Princeton performances will be held at the same hour and date, but in the Borough Hall gym. In Trenton, the rain date will be next Thursday, August 3. In the "Beginnings" cast are Phil O'Donoghue, Peter Rand and Adrienne Lavine. All are young residents of the Princeton area. Robert Little has designed the scene, Liz Hilst the costumes and Adrienne Brockway the lighting and sound. Anne Hazen is stage manager and Deborah Bellow is directing the music. Annie Brockway, founder of the Street Theatre, is the director. The audience should bring blanket, cushion or lawn chair because no formal seating is provided at any of the performances. Admission is free.

WE OPEN WITH "SLEUTH"
 At McCarter. Two performances of the British hit thriller "Sleuth" will open the Playgoers' Series at McCarter this fall. The play is scheduled for Thursday and Friday, September 28 and 29. In October, McCarter will present the musical hit "Godspell" and "The Rivalry," which is Norman Corwin's dramatization of the Lincoln-Douglas debates. Fred Gwynne and Martin Gabel will star.

"The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds," the Pulitzer-prize play of 1971, will receive two performances in January, and after that, Marcel Marceau will come back. Spring events in the series

MUSIC In Princeton

CONCERT PLANNED
Outdoors, Maybe. If it doesn't rain this Thursday, the final concert of the Princeton University Summer Chamber Music Series will be played in the North Court of the Graduate College at 8:30 p.m. The concert is open to the public without charge.

If it does rain, the concert will be moved indoors to Proctor Hall of the Graduate College. Concert-goers should bring blankets to sit on, because no chairs are provided. There is parking in the lot off Springdale Road.

String chamber music by Schubert and Dvorak will be on the program. Soloists will be Nadia Koutzen, violin; Harold Bright, violin; Joan Coulliette Thompson, cello; Jan Sloman, violin and viola and Timothy Carter, bass.

CHOIR LOVES SPOLETO
And Spoleto Loves Choir. The Westminster Choir and its conductor Dr. Joseph Flummerfelt have returned from Spoleto, Italy where they spent six weeks as chorus-in-residence at the famous Spoleto Festival.

Elizabeth Mulligan, daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. John M. Mulligan, Nelson Ridge Road, Princeton, was a member of the choir.

During the first two weeks, the choir spent nine hours a day rehearsing for a new production of Kurt Weill's opera "The Rise and Fall of the City of Mahagonny." The opera requires the chorus to be on stage during 18 of the 22 scenes, which accounts for the heavy rehearsal schedule. For many of the students, it was the first opportunity to participate in a major professional production of a full scale opera.

The opera house was packed for each of the seven performances and reviews praised the choir as well as the production.

Each afternoon throughout the festival, the Piazza del Duomo was jammed with spectators as the choir sang Bach chorales. Samuel Barber, the renowned American composer, commented after one of these informal performances, "I was having a terrible day until I heard those beautifully sung chorales!" and he requested that the choir sing some Renaissance pieces from its repertoire.

"The musical experience was great," exclaimed David Kline, a junior from Hopewell, New Jersey, "but what made it really worthwhile were the people we met, like Mr. Barber. I got to know all the principals in the opera and had a chance to find out how they broke into professional music. That kind of knowledge will be valuable to me next year when I graduate."

Most of the choir members visited Florence (a four hour train ride from Spoleto) and explored Rome on a number of occasions.

Beside the opera and the daily chorale sings, the choir participated in a number of chamber concerts (one, a Bach marathon conducted by Lukas Foss, lasted for several hours) and gave a full performance of their own.

Before the choir left Spoleto, composer Gian Carlo Menotti, founder of the festival, met with Dr. Flummerfelt and invited the choir to come back as often as he wished. He asked Dr. Flummerfelt to help in planning next year's festival to insure that the choir might better be utilized and occupy a more central place in the festival activities.

THAT OLD-TIME MUSIC
Crescent String Band Coming. The Crescent Temple String Band will take its repertoire of old favorites to Washington Crossing State Park for an Open Air Theatre concert Tuesday, August 1. Rain date will be August 2.

that season samplers will be available. Season samplers entitle the holder to a free show and further inquiries may be made at the Box Office. Tickets are still available for all of the shows this coming season and reservations may be made by calling (201) 735-5625 or writing 23 W. Main St., Clinton, N. J. 08809.

Performances begin at 8:30 Wednesday through Saturday and 7:30 Sunday. The theatre is located in the center of Clinton two blocks east of the Clinton-Pittstown Exit off Rt. 78. From the Trenton area follow Rt. 31 to the intersection of Hwy. 22 and the theatre is one mile on the left.

Fuzz (now playing) is a crime thriller, cartoon-styled, and played for laughs.

The bumbling plainclothesmen are Burt Reynolds, Jack Weston, Tom Skerritt and others. They are tracking an extortionist (Yul Brynner), and the fetching plainclotheswoman seen around is Raquel Welch, who's on the trail of a rapist.

The pace is fast, with an assortment of chases, car crashes, bombings and murders, but the film is burdened with crude humor.

GARDEN

Last of the Red Hot Lovers (now playing) is an agonizing comedy by Neil Simon about a middle-aged restaurateur's desperate attempts to have an extramarital affair.

Alan Arkin is the would-be Lothario, and Sally Kellerman, Paula Prentiss and Renee Taylor are his drop-in guests. As the story evolves, the fish restaurant owner feels that after 22 years as a faithful husband that life has gone out of its way to ignore him. He's forever daubing cologne on his hands to get rid of the fish odors, but no matter what he tries the smell of fish returns every afternoon at four.

He meets up with three feminine disasters: a put-down artist, an unsuccessful actress-singer and a middle-aged straight who is as uncomfortable in infidelity as he is. The three actresses are generally more able in their roles than Arkin, but the film is a rigid, unimaginative transfer of the stage version, without many laughs.

PRINCE

Portnoy's Complaint (now playing) retains all of the "celebrated" scenes from Philip Roth's controversial novel of the same title, reshaping them in hopes of achieving a more fluid form. The profanity is intact, but the satire of the novel has been softened to just another sex comedy.

Richard Benjamin plays Portnoy as if he were a young stockbroker. Karen Black, as Monkey, has one fine moment, telling Portnoy off on the Gracie Mansion lawn. And Portnoy's mother, who in the novel was the Jewish mother to end all Jewish mothers, is played by Lee Grant, in a pale characterization that in no way matches her recent contribution to "The Landlord."

The plot stems from the line, "It's my only life and I'm living it in the middle of a Jewish joke," said by Portnoy. He becomes a member of Mayor Lindsay's administration in New York. A crucial love affair becomes a defeat.

In the main, a bland movie with an obscene sound track.

with an 8:30 p.m. starting time each evening.

The band, an annual participant in the New Year's Day Mummers parade in Philadelphia, has appeared in more than 800 performances throughout the country over the years. Among the selections to be played at the Open Air Theatre are "Yackety Sax," by Bucky Pine, director of the group, and "Blossom Time Waltz," composed by one of the members.

WINTERS FURS
On A Summer's Day, Flemington Fur Company held its annual preview the other day, defying with air conditioning one of the hottest days of the summer.

The themes for the collection are fur-on-fur, nipped-in waists that are usually belted, and a lot of variety in length. The designs range from the classics to high flights of imagination that should shake up Main Street USA.

Flemington's president, S. Rodgers Benjamin, opened the show with urbane introductions to Barry Farber, who's tall, craggy and side-burned; Mary Logan, slim and practical-looking, and Mary Margaret Mc Bride, who's even slimmer. John Gambling, young and wearing the Ivy League blue blazer, presented Flemington Fur's annual scholarship awards to two high school graduates.

And singer Gordon MacRae, after prowling the room singing a medley of songs, settled into the role of fashion show MC with considerable charm.

Variety Stressed. As to the show, it opened, curiously enough, with several cloth coats, just to remind that Flemington Fur's factory showrooms offer quite a choice to the customers.

There were also some offerings from Father's Revenge, a special nook for men at the showroom. These, as they were modeled down the runway, included several his-and-her styles, pairing the same furs but adding masculine tailoring to the men's coats.

The main collection made great allowances for individual tastes. If you like bold checks, for instance, the show included a masterpiece in furrier stitchery, combining small black, white and gray mink squares of mink, naturally. Topping it off is a notched collar of white mink, and a tied leather belt.

FUR CLASSIC: Flemington Fur Company's supple coat of natural Black Glama ranch mink, collared, bordered and trimmed in dyed Russian sable. Figure about $3,950 out of the budget and it's yours.

(About $1,000)

The classics were led by a dark ranch mink, nearly black in color, which was paired with trim of dyed Russian Sable. (about $3,950) There were other soft classics, belted polo coat style, and trimly tailored.

More Mink. Fur-on-fur was shown again and again, from jackets to long, sweeping coats. Mink tails in shades described as white and "Autumn Haze," combined with a gold-toned opossum collar with an interesting effect.

Another design, somewhat reminiscent of the World War I styles, was a full-length evening cape, snuggled to the body and flaring from below the hips. Made in a rich brown Persian lamb, the cape was trimmed from the knee and round the hem in brown-dyed Norwegian fox. (about $3300) The model added to it a long scarf tied Indian style around her head, with the ends falling long on one side.

Flemington designers also fool around with leather-and-fur ideas, and the best of the lot was a sporty "Black Cross" mink jacket with inserts of leather running vertically from the shoulder, and deep leather cuffs. A wide leather belt cinches the waist. The pockets are outlined by two round portholes of leather. (about $700)

Badger appeared stitched in a herringbone pattern, with a full skin collar (around $1,000). A natural Pahmi paw was shown in contrasting triangles of brown and white, trimmed all around in Russian raccoon. (about $700) There's a leather tie belt.

Striking Contrast. And even lamb paws, made into a swinging goucho cape with a slide-through leather tie at the waist. The contrasting black and white furs are very striking. The model added a broad-brimmed red goucho hat and black pants. (around $450)

Fur hats—deep, fluffy tams, high crowns and broad sombreros—gave an added dash to

NEW OWNERS TAKE OVER

At Cranbury Inn. Historic Cranbury Inn is now owned jointly by Rich Zanyor and Tony Bremec, who have plans for the fall that include dinner music by a small combo on Friday and Saturday nights.

The new management has no immediate plans for expansion of the inn, but they have revised the menus for luncheon and dinner. They're also doing some redecorating.

The dinner menu at the Cranbury Inn features stuffed shrimp Baltimore, prime ribs, lobster tails, and the house specialty—a truly crisp roast Long Island duckling served in a delicious cherry sauce.

Luncheon menus change every week and include many old favorites.

The Cranbury Inn, and it's a nice drive over there, with some interesting shops in the remodeled stable out back, is open for lunch and dinner Tuesday through Sunday. Hours are noon to 2:30 and 5 to 7 p.m. On Saturdays, the inn is open until 10 p.m., and on Sundays, dinner is served from noon until 8 p.m.

BROWSING NEEDLEWORK

At Clayton's. "My daughter wants something to do during rest period at camp," that's a recurring request at Clayton's Yarn Shop on Palmer Square.

Mrs. Helen Widing or her assistants, show them a number of beginners' projects—and many mothers choose the old-fashioned samplers, colorful and quaintly styled. ($1.95 to $3.24) Others go for small projects in needlepoint, crewel and or bargello.

The Yarn Shop has a growing supply of books on stitchery. "Creative Canvas Work" among them. A new book is due in from Sturbridge Village on early handwork and needlepoint designs. Another on order is from England, giving English crewel stitches.

The crewel and needlepoint canvases feature the current top designers and several of Clayton's own "finds." The work of Erica Wilson, Sylvia Sydney, Elsa Williams and the anonymous designers for Bucilla is well known. The range and imaginativeness is fascinating.

Clayton's own discoveries are Frances McCauley and Cathy. The McCauley needlepoint designs combine a love of nature with a light touch. The tiger is resting with forepaws extended, head and eyes alert. A squirrel nibbles an acorn in a secure notch of the tree. Moving further into whimsy, she draws a greedy crocodile, white-napped at the neck. Mrs. McCauley is a custom designer and will design for you. This is an interesting avenue to explore.

For Cat Lovers. Then there's Cathy, who is working in crewel designs, using a poet's palette of colors. For cat lovers, a white kitten head on white linen in a softly affectionate characterization. For whimsy, perhaps the parade of ducks on gray linen. ($7 to $9)

The Clayton Yarn Shop is also featuring "super stitchery," which Mrs. Widing says you can finish in a week at the beach—or anyplace else. These needlepoint projects feature elegant Persian yarns for stitching into hand-painted canvases. The three designs we saw featured tulips, strawberries and contemporary-mood daisies. ($12.50)

Most of the canvases in the shop are for pillows, but interesting enough to frame for the wall. Among them Erica Wilson's still life of a flower-filled garden basket (crewel on 14x24 white linen background; $8); and her drawing of wild ponies. From Bucilla, a crewel-outlined tree, with a youthful fisherman on the bank and a tow-head girl watching. ($6)

Bookends and doorstops may be made by covering a brick with a stitchery design. We noticed a fine series of bird patterns that include the cardinal, goldfinch and robin.

One If by Land. One of the popular designs this summer, Mrs. Widing told us, is Elsa Williams' footstool cover depicting Paul Revere's ride. The crewel kit includes the low stool itself ($12.)

From most of the designers come tennis racquet covers that feature more than crossed rackets. Sylvia Sydney has done a four-leaf clover pattern inside diamond shapes.

Drifting through the Yarn Shop, we paused over Erica Wilson's "Peaceable Kingdom" in crewel work; the white apron with cotton embroidered springs of herbs ($2.99); a needlepoint wallpiece with the guitar and trumpet against a bar of music, and the crewel reproductions of the scrolled and colorful Pennsylvania Dutch birth certificates, a new grandmother's delight.

Clayton's Yarn Shop has some fascinating bargello samples to show you. We had no idea the stitch could be so lovely. The shop has bargello kits of all kinds and canvas for those who make up their own patterns. If you make a belt, be sure to see the antiqued metal buckles that finish off a bargello belt to a farethe-well.

ENGAGEMENTS
Bernhardt-Tirrell. Miss Peggy Ann Bernhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Bernhardt of Pittsford, N.Y., formerly of Princeton, to Ian M. Tirrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Tirrell of Dalton, Mass. The wedding is planned for September 2.

Miss Bernhardt is a graduate of Oxford College of Emory University and attended Boston University. Her fiancé is a graduate of Springfield College. The couple will spend the year following their marriage touring Europe with American Profile Ensemble, performing original American drama.

Grover-Raymond. Miss Lynn LaV. Grover, daughter of Mrs. Donald R. Mathews of Lawrenceville and the late Robert E. Grover, to Russell S. Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Raymond of Little Falls. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Grover attended Wheelock College and Rider College. She is employed by E.R. Squibb and Sons. Her fiancé was graduated from the University of Miami and served with the Navy. He is with C. P. Hull Company, New York City.

Barlow-Ferreri. Miss Linda J. Barlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lester Barlow of 217 Washington Road, to Eugene A. Ferreri Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Ferreri of Shaker Heights, D.

Miss Barlow, a Princeton High School alumna, and her fiancé are seniors at Duke University. A wedding after graduation is planned. Mr. Ferreri will attend law school.

Blackmon-Morlan. Miss Carol Ann Blackmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Blackmon Sr. of Levittown, to Harold E. Morlan II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Morlan of Satellite Beach, Fla. A September 3 wedding is planned.

Miss Blackmon is a graduate of Pennsbury High School and is employed by the law firm of McCarthy, Bacsik and Hicks. Her fiancé will be a senior at Princeton University this fall, where he is majoring in urban affairs at the Woodrow Wilson School.

WEDDINGS

Wood-Kline. Miss Daryl L. Kline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon P. Kline of 44 Horner Lane, to James C. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Wood of 915 Mt. Lucas Road. July 22: St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church.

The bride and groom are graduates of Princeton High School. Mrs. Wood, who holds a degree from Elmira (N.Y.) College, is a member of the faculty at Clinton Public School. Mr. Wood, an alumnus of Salem (W. Va.) College, is a teacher at Ewing High School. The couple will live in Ewing Township.

Fiumenero Greene. Miss Deborah L. Greene, daughter of Mrs. Harold H. Yingling of Scarsville, to Anthony F. Fiumenero, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fiumenero of Kingston. July 9: Kingston Presbyterian Church.

The bride, a graduate of Hillsborough High School, is employed by Bamberger's. Her husband is a graduate of Franklin High School and attended Mercer County Community College. He is assistant manager at Bamberger's. The couple will live in Kingston.

Plyler-Crane. Miss A. Candida Crane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Crane of Princeton Junction, to Lt. Conrad A. Plyler Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad A. Plyler of Columbia, S.C. July 8: Summerall Chapel at The Citadel, Charleston, S.C.

The bride holds a degree in library science from Columbia College, Columbia, S.C., and is a librarian in the St. Andrews District of Charleston County Public Schools. Lt. Plyler, a graduate of the United States Naval Academy, has completed training at the Naval Submarine Base at Groton, Conn., and will be stationed on the U.S.S. James Polk. The couple will live in Charleston.

Paine-Clark. Miss Cornelia T. Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dudley Clark Jr. of Princeton and Harbour Island, The Bahamas, to Surgeon Lieutenant-Commander Michael P. W.H. Paine, son of Commander (R.N. Ret.) and Mrs. Geoffrey W.W.H. Paine of Bramdean, Hampshire, England. July 15: Trinity Episcopal Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. David Fulton of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, assisted by Canon James Whittemore, rector of Trinity.

The bride was educated at St. Timothy's School, Stevenson, Md., Smith College and the Columbia Graduate School of Business. Her husband was graduated from Downside Abbey, and the London Hospital, University of London. The couple will live in Plymouth, England.

"Yes" to IDA.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The enclosed letter to Mayor Wallace of Princeton Township was prompted by the article in the July 20th issue of Town Topics, headed "No! To IDA". In view of the statements of Mr. Bergesen, as reported in that article, the headline might just as well have read, "Yes! To IDA". The copy of the letter to Mayor Wallace is sent to you to let you know, and your readers too, if you wish to print it, that there are others who share Mr. Bergesen's views.

I am confident, in fact that a poll of the community would find many, if not a majority of the voters who elected the present Committee, agreeing with the viewpoint expressed in my letter.

MORRIS A. MAYERS
41 Adams Drive

I regret that I was unable to attend the meetings of the Township Committee in which the question of a building permit within the Township for IDA was discussed.

As an alumnus of Princeton University, which Woodrow Wilson dedicated to the Nation's service, I was greatly disturbed by the University's failure to take effective action against students and faculty who engaged in illegal measures to obstruct the legitimate activities of an agency of the Federal Government.

The desire of IDA to remove itself from such an alien environment is quite comprehensible. It is surprising to me that the organization would even consider remaining in the neighborhood which tolerates the kind of hooliganism to which it has been subjected. If, however, IDA has good reasons for not wishing to move to some other area where it will be more welcome, I can see no valid reason for objecting to its plans to build in the Township.

Anyone who is old enough to have been aware of the national temper on December 7, 1941 will recall that the Department of Defense was given a mandate to make certain that there should be no more Pearl Harbours.

The Institute for Defense Analysis was created to comply with that mandate. It has been said that the price of liberty is eternal vigilance and the vigilance of IDA is part of the price we must pay to preserve our liberty.

In 1916 Woodrow Wilson said, "We are too proud to fight" but in 1917 we were at war. In a campaign speech Franklin Roosevelt promised that as long as he was president no American would fight on foreign soil, but Pearl Harbour prevented him from keeping his promise.

We were woefully unprepared militarily and psychologically for World War I and World War II, which encouraged the aggressions of the Kaiser, Hitler and Tojo. The work of IDA may help to deter future aggressors, but only if its findings can be kept out of the hands of potential enemies.

If this means keeping them out of the hands of well intentioned but misguided friends I, for one, consider it a small price to pay for the protection of our nation and our allies.

In conclusion, I urge the Committee, which was elected only to concern itself with Township affairs, to abstain from actions which go beyond the mandate of its local constituency. IDA's application should be granted, or withheld, solely on the grounds of the interests of Princeton Township.

Corrections Offered.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I am writing to correct several errors made in last week's report of the statement about I.D.A. which I made before the Township Committee on July 17.

1. My statement made no reference to electronically guided bombs. Ironically, the words put in my mouth by Town Topics turned out to be true, as I learned later in the week from an article by Maurice Bazin in the August issue of Ramparts: I.D.A.'s JASON division did indeed contribute to the development of the laser-guided, or "smart" bomb.

2. The JASON division of I.D.A. has never, to my knowledge, worked on flechettes, those tiny, nail-shaped weapons which cause such terrible suffering. My statement said that I.D.A., which includes five specialized divisions in addition to JASON, has done flechette research. A non-classified study listed in the 1967 annual report of I.D.A. was entitled "Explosively produced flechettes." Town Topics was in error in linking this area of study with the JASON division.

3. I did not merely "charge" that JASON has done research on electronic warfare. Rather, I quoted from an official statement placed in the Congressional Record on Nov. 23, 1970, by Senator Goldwater:

In August of 1966, a scientific group known as the JASON Committee proposed to the Secretary of Defense a concept for inhibiting enemy troop and supply infiltration into South Vietnam by means of an air-supported barrier system, supplemented, if necessary, by a conventional barrier system. These systems basically called for the use of electronic sensors to detect enemy personnel and vehicles, and the use of tactical aircraft, mines, and other munitions to counter the enemy incursions thus detected.

This statement clearly implicates JASON in the development of the electronic air war which our country is now using to continue from the air a war Americans did not support when it was fought from the ground.

Education Is the Villain.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
In TOWN TOPICS of July 20, you published a letter, signed by Catherine L. McGrath, under the title "Tax Reform Death Mourned."

I write to question this point of view. One could only come to such a conclusion if he were to swallow the semantics and brainwashing of Cahill and the people who took him for a ride. The Cahill line was well defined by labor representatives as "slick brainwashing."

There was no real tax reform involved. It was just a scheme for putting over unlimited tax increases.

is' in reality. The politicians have created any financial crisis there may be. The crisis of the large cities represents more political chicanery. If you assume there is no limit to the amounts politicians may spend when they are elected to office, you of course can have a financial crisis any time you want it.

There is no reason why the taxpayers should fall for this manifestation of intentional hypocrisy and economic illiteracy. These are some of the reasons why the key problem is credibility.

The residents of suburban communities are not in any way responsible for the incompetence, corruption and mismanagement on the part of those who run the large cities. Why should they bail them out?

The reason there may be a problem called the property tax is that twice any amount that can be justified is spent on education that is not worth half what it costs. Education has been made a sacred cow. It must be cut down to size and value.

The number one problem confronting the country of course is the failure of government. The cause of the failure of government is the failure of half-baked education. Because of half-baked education, we have politicians who insist on representation without authorization — a form of malfeasance called dictatorship.

The preposterous assumption that there is no limit to amounts available and that there are no rules governing intelligent spending of public money are major factors in the half-wit thinking we are getting from the politicians and the crackpot liberals.

It must be awful to be sweating on the welfare rolls at the cushy figures now commonly paid!

Foran and Weidel, of course, are hearing from supporters about their absurd votes on the Cahill tax program. They will continue to hear from enough so that they probably will not return to office. It will be too bad for them to lose the nice, cushy velvet represented by the $10,000 a year paid to assemblymen in advance.

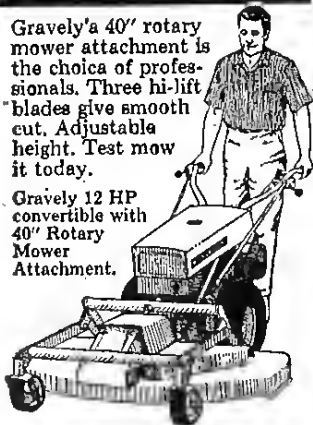

The most important immediate action by those not in the crackpot category should be to cut our absurd education down to size. This would mean a proper limitation of the curriculum to subjects that are really necessary even if not so attractive. It would also mean limiting the amount squandered on education to less than 50 percent of what is now being wasted. There is no property tax problem that would not be solved by eliminating the 50 percent of fluff now tolerated in half-baked education.

Rapid City Girls Grateful.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The generous donation recently received by the Rapid City Girls Club from your community is deeply appreciated.

Dr. Jepsen's initiation of the drive for donations, coupled with your publicity, has certainly drawn the people of the two states closer in camaraderie. The $1,200 donation will be put into immediate use and managed prudently.

Again, our thanks to all the people of your area.

Schools' Actions Questioned.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The internal business of a school system is not normally the business of the local community. That Princeton has been brought to the point of having to concern itself with the behind-the-scenes activities of the school administration is regrettable.

However, it has become more and more evident that the quality of education in Princeton is being shaped by events and decisions which the community never hears about — and will never hear about while the school board majority continues to provide protective coloration for the Superintendent — even in the face of mounting community distrust.

June was an interesting month in the Princeton school system.

The mail brought Parents a copy of a McPherson memorandum to the administrative staff. It was an attempt by the Supt. to influence the contract negotiations between the Administrators and the School Board.

Was it illegal interference in negotiations? Was it unethical? Was it intimidation of staff? What did the school board majority think of the Supt's action? That it was naughty?

At the monthly Community Relations meeting, Dr. McPherson was queried about the new math program planned for use during the 72-73 school year. The materials are mathematically inaccurate. They are expensive.

They require continuous additions of equipment and supplies. They are unwieldy and complicated. They are in the form of comic strips — grotesque caricatures of Blacks, square-headed politicians, etc. They are depreciating, racist, sexist, violent.

Who brought this program to Princeton? Who approved its use? Dr. McPherson answered that the program had not been decided on — the materials filling a storeroom at Johnson Park had been sent to us so we could examine them.

Fortunately—or unfortunately, depending on your viewpoint — the principal most closely involved with the program, arrived to assure us that the math program had been approved, had been ordered, would be used, and indeed, the planning for the two weeks of training teachers need, to learn to use the materials, was already underway!

How could a new math program, eventually intended for systemwide use, be ordered without Dr. McPherson's knowledge? Are textbooks and classroom materials ordered without being examined? Read? Evaluated? Was Dr. McPherson's answer a real "bent-truth" — or is he actually out of touch with what's going on in the school system?

Earlier in June, Parents had been interested in the conflicting statements coming from Stony Brook on whether we were going to hire a Coordinator of Curriculum for the 72-73 school year. We thought we had the answer when we heard that the staff opening had been advertised and 160 applications for the job had been received.

Four possible candidates for the job were selected and invited to Princeton—expenses paid—for a "group interview." Ordinarily, that means that the individual candidate is interviewed by a group of administrators. In Princeton it meant that all four candidates were interviewed as a group, by the administrators. Before the candidates walked out on the interview, one of them made his opinion of the experience very clear!

They had not been brought to Princeton for a job interview, they had been invited here in the hope that our administrators could "pick their brains" — use them as curriculum consultants without paying consultant fees. Choosing a Coordinator for this year was not the intent of the interview!

The administrators in charge of this shabby maneuver were Dr. McPherson's personally chosen staff — Assistant Johnson and Advisors Vieland and Huchel. Parents cannot believe that this plan could be organized and implemented without the Supt.'s cooperation.

Do you think this incident enhanced the reputation of the Princeton school system in educational circles? Do we laugh it off as another one of Princeton's experiments with an "innovative method"? What did this contrived plot cost in tax dollars? Do you think we now have some clues as to why our school system has lost so many of our master teachers and administrators?

The integrity of the Princeton school system is more and more "on the line"! Will the school board majority react to this letter as it has the previous ones — and attempt to hold a public interrogation of Parents and staff to ferret out "who told"?

Or will the school board majority concern itself with the real problem, this time — the calibre of the administrative leadership of our school system?

Flood Relief Vital Now.

To the Editor of Town Topics: At present, the Red Cross is anxiously trying to raise additional funds to help the flood victims who suffered great personal losses as a result of Hurricane Agnes. Having seen firsthand the excellent job the Red Cross is doing to help these people, I would like to urge as strongly as I can that people contribute generously to the Red Cross solicitation for funds because the need is very great.

I recently spent five days in the Wilkes-Barre area where several members of my family are among those who lost most of what they owned. I saw many examples of the Red Cross's help and generosity in giving food, clothing, money for furniture, bedding, kitchen utensils, and the like.

Needless to say, the promptness of their assistance, in contrast to the red tape of other agencies, has done much to improve the morale of people who are still suffering from the shock of this disaster.

The immediate problem is to get these people back into their homes — 4,000 were still in evacuation centers last week and 60,000 homeless — and restore businesses and jobs.

The people who live in the area are anxious to get back into their homes and they are working hard, but they need materials and tools for clean-up and rebuilding. Supplies, such as the truckload contributed by Princeton citizens, are very much appreciated. Clothing, though not needed at the moment, will be welcome when people have some place to put their belongings.

However, what is needed most is MONEY, massive amounts of money, now and for a long time to come. The flood victims have been promised Federal and state aid and hopefully they will get it. But some things cannot wait on red tape and forms, and money is needed now. The Red Cross is already at work. I urge everyone who can to contribute to the Red Cross appeal for money so that the work can go on.

PHYLLIS SMITH
276 Nassau Street

Editor's Note: Princeton's bad flood was back in late August of last year, but Princeton Township still hasn't received even approval of its application for Federal money to clear away flood debris. The Township also asked for money to replace lost tax-office equipment and half that request has been received from the Federal government. Administrator Joseph R. Nini thinks the delay in debris-removal money is traceable to Federal concern about ecological matters. Ian Walker, director of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association, has been asked by Federal authorities to study the question.

FIRE ALARM SOUNDED
Early Friday Morning, Borough police, investigating a call reporting smoke coming out of 8 Spring Street, called for a general alarm at 6:01 Friday morning.

Twelve minutes later the blaze was under control. Police said that the fire was confined to a storage area at the rear of Christine's Beauty Shop, 4 Spring Street.

MAN IS ARRESTED

For Check Passing, Vincent X. Dula, 36, 184 Witherspoon Street, was arrested last week by Detectives Timothy Huizing and Anthony Rantone on a warrant signed by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Police said that Dula passed a check for $20 July 12 at Buxton's on Nassau Street. Detective Rantone signed the complaint.

THREE ARE FINED

For Careless Driving, Three Princeton area drivers were fined Monday by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. in Borough Court.

James J. McKee, 18, 183 Jefferson Road and Cecil J. Stewart, 71, 42 William Street, each paid $25, and James E. Miller, 25, 227 1-2 John Street, paid $15. Mr. Stewart, in addition, had his license revoked for 30 days. Mr. Miller also paid $10 for having no license in possession.

Paying fines for red light violations were Harry Alonso, 54, 2505 Main Street, Lawrenceville, and Bernard J. Hilscher, 34, 51 N. Tulane Street, both of whom paid $12, and John Soete, 20, 138 Ewing Street, who paid $22. Mr. Soete was found not guilty of a second charge of careless driving.

Driving an unregistered vehicle cost Marjorie Myhill, 46, 358 Moore Street, $15.

Grounded 60 Days. In township court last week, Judge Burton Peskin revoked for 60 days the license of James C. Attenborough, 20, 779 Princeton-Kingston Road, who pleaded guilty to driving while impaired by alcohol on Alexander Road. He was also fined $55.

Four paid fines of $15 each for stop sign infractions: Domenico DiFalco, 36, 62 Clearview Avenue; Brigid Moynahan, 18, Lawrenceville Road; Cecelia Sanney, 29, N. Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell; and Spencer F. Barber, 3d, 29, of Pennington.

Also fined $15 were Joseph Gallo 2nd, 18, 411 Franklin Avenue, careless driving; and Donald C. Owens, 18, 153 Witherspoon Street, operating a motorcycle without a licensed driver.

TWO ARE INJURED

In Three-Car Collision, A driver and a passenger received minor injuries Thursday afternoon following a three-car collision at the intersection of Bayard Lane and Avalon Place.

Mrs. Gladys M. White, 85, 154 Library Place, the driver, was treated at Princeton Medical Center for hemotoma and laceration of the forehead. Diana M. Lucs, 29, of North Brunswick, a passenger in a car driven by her husband, John, 33, was treated for lacerations and contusions of the left hip.

Mrs. White was ticketed by Ptl. Gerald Patterson for failing to stop for a red light. According to the police report, Mrs. White, traveling on Avalon Place, told them she saw a line of cars ahead waiting for the light when her foot slipped from the brake. To avoid hitting the car in front, she pulled to the left, she said, and proceeded into the intersection, aiming for a cement post in a Bayard Lane driveway.

She never made it. She hit the Lucs car in the middle of the intersection on the right rear side. The impact spun the Lucs car around into the front of a small foreign car operated by Roberta L. Eckstein, 24, of New Rochelle, N.Y. which was stopped on Bayard Lane, waiting to turn left onto Avalon.

The White car continued on across the intersection, jumped the curb and came to rest against a stone wall. The Lucs car, meanwhile, glanced off the fender of the Eckstein car and continued toward the east curb of Bayard Lane. It jumped the curb and struck a fire hydrant. The hydrant later had to be removed by workmen from the Elizabethtown Water Company.

Both the White and Lucs cars had to be towed away. The incident took place at 3:24 p.m.

HENRY SCHULTZ HONORED
Blind Unit Gets New Booth. A permanent and fitting memorial to Henry Schultz, Princeton's blind Santa Claus for nearly a quarter of a century has been made possible through donations from his friends here.

A new reading booth for the taping of college textbooks was dedicated to Mr. Schultz last week by the Princeton Unit of Recording for the Blind. The new booth is the fifth, with a sixth soon to be completed, now in operation by this growing organization, reflecting the increasing demand for tape recordings by students in widely diversified fields of study.

The many volunteers at Recording for the Blind soon become aware of how much people with vision take books for granted — opening them at will, browsing or leafing through them, referring to them without a moment's hesitation.

But these same books require special preparation before they are "read" on tape for students whose only access to their content is through sound — the sound of the human voice as recorded on tape.

It is for the hundreds of serious college students, both graduate and undergraduate, whose remarkable academic records are aided by the work of Recording for the Blind that qualified volunteers have, for the past fourteen years, devoted countless hours to the auditory reproduction of texts at 100 Stockton Street.

Specialists are needed to record books on physics, electronics, biology, computer science, and mathematics at all levels, as well as in foreign languages. But general readers are also in demand.

Every general reader is trained both to read and to monitor. Monitors learn to man the tape recorder as they follow a duplicate text, thereby insuring accuracy, clarity, and proper volume of the reading.

Mrs. Thomas Bogia, studio director of the Princeton Unit of this national organization, points out that new books are now being received for courses opening in September, and volunteers are being sought to begin recording as soon as possible.

Sixty-two books are being recorded at the present time, and twenty-six more are awaiting readers. For additional information and an appointment for a voice test, volunteers may call Mrs. Bogia or her assistants Mrs. Robert Winters and Mrs. Susan Sachs at 921-6534.

SUBDIVISION ASKED
For Vandeventer Lot. Richard Rubin, owner of historic Beatty House on the corner of Vandeventer Avenue and Park Place, will appear before the Borough Zoning Board Thursday night with plans to subdivide the lot.

Mr. Rubin wants to create a new lot fronting on Park Place that will be undersized, having only an 80-foot depth instead of the required 90. In his application, Mr. Rubin states that he plans to build on the lot but does not specify. A spokesman for the Engineering Department reported that the only building which could be constructed on the lot, located in an R4 zone, that would not require several variances would be a single family dwelling.

The lot on which the Beatty House is presently located will comply with the ordinance: the house itself, however, will be in violation of rear yard requirements if the subdivision is approved.

Mrs. L. R. Goodyear of Belle Mead will appear with plans to build a two-story addition to the rear of a home at 22 Edgehill Street, owned by A. M. Frantz, 22 Edgehill.

The proposed addition will increase violations in coverage and side yard requirements and create a rear yard violation. The roof of the house, located in a R1 zone, was damaged by a fire earlier this year.

Representatives from the Westminster Choir College will ask for an interpretive ruling from the board concerning a portable classroom which the board authorized in 1967 for a five-year period and which is due to expire.

The college's position is that since the classroom was authorized under a previous zoning ordinance, it became a pre-existing conforming use under the new ordinance and therefore the building and use may continue without requiring any further action from the board.

JAYCEES PICK LEADER
President, Officers Elected.
Peter Addicott was elected president of the Princeton Jaycees at the election dinner of the organization held earlier this month.
Other officers elected for 1972-73 are Doug Cooper, internal vice - president; John Hartmann, external vice-president; Al Kettell, treasurer; Kerry Kohler and Bob Blosser, directors.
The Jaycees membership consists of men in the 21-35 age group. The goal of the organization is to provide leadership training in civic work and community projects. Among the projects, in the Princeton area, are the annual Football Classic, Career Development Awards, Jaycee Summer for Kids, and the Jaycee Community Art Show.
Men who are interested are invited to call 924-4825, the Princeton YMCA, or Mr. Blosser at 586-3539.

of student demonstrations in May at the Institute for Defense Analyses.
He pleaded not guilty to a second charge of molesting and interfering on the second day of demonstrations, and the charge was dismissed for lack of proof. Dr. Richard A. Leibler, IDA director, was the complainant.
In other cases Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. fined Frederick Skipworth of Hollow Rd. for trespassing at Dodge-Osborn Hall on the university campus, and James J. Mac Afee of 52 Ridgeview Circle, $35 for attempted larceny of a stereo tuner and amplifier from Blair Tower on the campus. Both pleaded guilty.
Charles R. Parmele of Rolling Hill Road, Skillman, was fined $15 as a minor in possession of alcohol, and Sharon J. Reiter of 14 Moore Street, paid the same amount for shoplifting at Davidson's Market.

Mark D. Landauer of 50 Aiken Avenue was ordered held for Grand Jury action after a probable cause hearing.
He has been charged with possession of stolen property. Some 100 record albums and stereo equipment, allegedly stolen from a parked car, were found in his possession, according to the complainant, Det. Timothy Huizing.

Students to Live, Work in Princeton Homes

Would you be interested in having a University student live in your home as a member of your family?

An experimental program will be started this fall under the auspices of Halcyone Bohen, Assistant Dean of Students at Princeton University. It has a two-fold purpose: to help students who have financial problems, to cheer students who are unhappy with standard dormitory life.

It's a "live-in-work-in" concept. The student, male or female, graduate or undergraduate, will live with the family but probably not take all three meals in the home.

In return for a furnished room and the privileges of a bathroom, the student will work around the house — perhaps mowing the lawn, shoveling snow, tossing a ball around in the early evenings with the kids, acting as house-sitter when the family goes off on weekends, baby-sitting.

Elizabeth Ranney and Ruth Ann Offenbauer, directing the program for the University, have worked out a formula with the Bureau of Student Aid, under which the student will put in a minimum of 40 hours' work a month in return for a hours monthly for total board. Few students will sign on for full board, the directors believe.

Final arrangements will be agreed on between student and family.

No money is to change hands at all. But if the family wants to hire the student for extra work—house-painting or bartending at a party—that will be allowed. Otherwise, it is purely a barter arrangement. Family and student will also work out important details like visitors in the student's room, smoking, late-night typing of thesis, TV or refrigerator privileges, laundry, telephone.

A file of interested townspeople will be kept in the office of the Dean of Students—in fact, Mrs. Ranney and Mrs. Offenbauer have already started one, using the names of people who have indicated an interest.

The card in the file will describe the accommodations ("small bedroom, bath shared with children, in return for 12 hours a week baby-sitting plus yard care").

The student will look through the file, find a compatible family and let Mrs. Ranney and Mrs. Offenbauer bring the two together.

"We will talk with interested families ahead of time," the two directors explain, "first we'll ask why you want a live-in student. If you want a full-time maid, for example, forget it. We will discourage the families that don't quite seem to fit."

"We'll also have to remind people that these men and women are students, first of all. That's why they are here. At exam time, there will be stress and tension. Quite probably the student will do a lot of work at night. Perhaps the 40 hours will be worked off in big batches, to allow for long study periods."

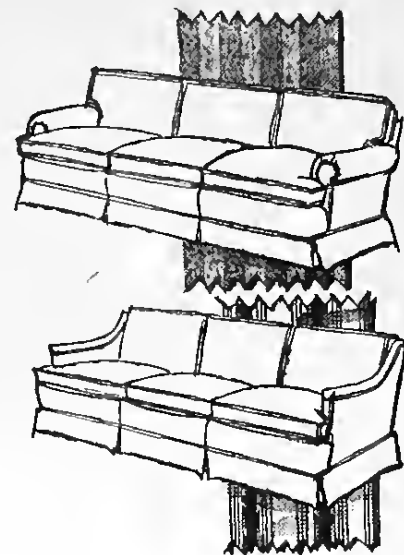

"Actually," the women say, "we don't think of it as 'work'. These young people will be living in the home, and behaving rather like members of the family."

Couples whose children have grown and moved away, or couples where the husband gets home late and the wife would love to have somebody play with the kids, or a family willing to pay the extra insurance in order to have a driver for car-pools—that kind of relationship.

Interested families are invited to call 452-3052. If you live in Princeton Township, you may register, but you can't take in a roomer until the present zoning law has been changed. There are no zoning problems for Borough residents.

Its members will soon be ready to serve the community.

Officers to serve for the balance of 1972 are: President, Walter Kozachek; vice-president, Virginia DeRemer; treasurer, Ray Lockhart; corresponding secretary, Gwen Rigg; recording secretary, Gwen Lockhart.

Also, Captain, E.W. Rigg; First Lieutenant, Charles Osborne; Second Lieutenant, H. O. Tunning; head driver, Charles L. Dey; Chaplain, Anthony Antera; head trustee, Harold S. Ward; first trustee, Joanne Linda Waxman; second trustee C.D. Powell; third trustee, Aneta Zinetti; fourth trustee, Walter F. Conover 3rd.

Delegates to the New Jersey First Aid Council are C. D. Powell, Charles L. Dey, E. W. Rigg, and alternates, Joanne Linda Waxman, Harold S. Ward and Priscilla Landau.

A fund-raising garage sale will be held August 26th. And a bake sale and shrub sale this fall.

Volunteers, experienced or inexperienced, may call Gwen Lockhart at 799-2437 for information.

CORRECTION

It was erroneously stated in last week's issue that the Township has not had a health officer since the resignation of Mrs. Marcella Farley. The Township has an acting health officer, Herman A. Lavan, who serves two days a week.

PEOPLE In The News

Anne G. Waldron, of 22 Wilson Road, is among 57 secondary school teachers from 20 states and two foreign countries attending the 19th Rutgers Mathematics Institute at the Rutgers University Summer Session.

The institute, supported by the National Science Foundation, is the second part of a three-summer sequential program, which offers courses and auxiliary services which contribute to the teacher's mastery of mathematics. Miss Waldron, a graduate of Columbia, teaches at Churchill Junior High School in East Brunswick.

Navy Petty Officer Second and Class Ronald J. Germond, husband of the former Miss Elsie M. Jenkins, 53 Pennington Avenue, Pennington, completed a specialized aviation maintenance course at the Naval Air Station, Virginia Beach, Va. He will now be assigned to Attack Squadron 35, aboard the aircraft carrier USS America.

Dr. Norman S. Katz of 66 Mt. Lucas Road has been named a fellow of the American Academy of Pediatrics. The Academy has approximately 13,500 members drawn from North, Central and South America. To qualify, a pediatrician must be certified by the American Board of Pediatrics, which requires a minimum of five years' post-medical school experience, and must be a citizen of one of the countries of the Americas.

Mary Zapalac, daughter of Louis P. Zapalac of Route 1, Skillman, is cited on the Dean's List at Hollins College, near Roanoke, Va., for academic achievement during the spring term. She is a graduate of Montgomery Township High School and will be a sophomore at Hollins this fall.

Mrs. Marion D. Stark of Hollow Road, Skillman, a member of Princeton University's administrative staff since 1969, has been advanced to the newly created post of Associate Director of the Princeton University Conference.

For the past three years Mrs. Stark has been Assistant to the Director of the Conference, a 16-year-old program designed "to improve access to basic ideas and to stimulate communication between the interdependent elements of society" through conferences held periodically on the Princeton campus and elsewhere.

A native of Summit, an alumna of Temple University and a lifelong resident of New Jersey, Mrs. Stark was for five years assistant manager of the Nassau Inn, and for 14 years was executive secretary and office manager with the late C. Wesley Armstrong Jr. of Trenton, a member of the New Jersey State Senate. Mrs. Stark, the first woman to earn a pilot's license at Mercer County Airport, is a past president of both the Soroptimist Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club. At the University she is a member of the Advisory Committee on the Status of Women and is on the editorial board of "Staff News," a new periodical devoted to news of University personnel.

Two members of Princeton University's Department of Politics are among the 14 American scholars singled out for post-doctoral research grants in a program of Soviet Studies jointly sponsored by the American Council of Learned Societies and the Social Science Research Council. The joint program has been made possible by The Ford Foundation.

The Princeton recipients and their research projects are: Stephen F. Cohen, 33, Assistant Professor of Politics, Arthur H. Scribner Bicentennial Preceptor: The transformation of Soviet Russia, 1929-1939.

And Robert C. Tucker, 54 years old, Professor of Politics called to Princeton from Indiana University in 1962: Stalin and Russian Communism, a study in history and personality.

Linda J. Barlow of 217 Washington Road has earned Class Honors in addition to being on the Dean's List at Duke University. Miss Barlow will be a senior this fall.

Among the professional youth workers from 46 cities who served in Miami as a crisis-prevention team under the sponsorship of the YMCA's, during the Democratic Convention was Gerald Sanders of 123 1/2 John Street, a detached worker for the Princeton YMCA.

"The Miami Outreach Project," Mr. Sanders says, "was essentially a communications system supporting the teams performing a neutral third party function. It was generally agreed that lack of communications in Chicago in 1968 was the chief cause for the violence."

Mr. Sanders reports that outreach workers were in the streets, parks and other locations where non-delegates gathered. They worked in two-man teams around the clock. A first aid tent was maintained in Flamingo Park, where most of the non-delegates were camped.

The teams were charged with serving as neutral mediators in threatening situations, with rumor control, and emergency aid. The outreach teams will be back in August, in the same role, he says.

Dean's List honors for the spring semester have been accorded to two Princeton area students by their respective colleges.

Anthony Chiang, 5 Wycombe Way, Princeton Junction, made the honors list at Newark College of Engineering; Deborah M. Tornquist, Lincoln Avenue, Griggstown, was achieved the distinction at Union College, where she is a nursing major.

Lafayette College has listed five students from this area on its academic honors list. They are: William F. Lenz, 54 Hart Avenue, Hopewell; Judith A. Tilton, 21 Monroe Avenue, Lawrenceville; Leon A. Adams, 16 Newlin Road; Joy C. Locher, 189 Carter Road, and Brian T. McGrath, 89 Dempsey Avenue.

Mark A. Gorenstein, 92 Phillips Drive, has received a bachelor of arts degree with distinction from the University of Rochester.

Marguerite Stephens, 22 Sherbrooke Drive, Princeton Junction, is one of 14 Trenton State students who will study in England during the fall semester. They are part of a group of 82 students from the New Jersey state colleges participating in the "Semester in England" program, sponsored by the New Jersey State Council in International Education. Miss Stephens will study at Worcester College of Education.

Navy Petty Officer Third Class Eugene G. Butt, son of Mr. Bernard E. Butt of 21 and one-half Lafayette Street, Hopewell, has returned to the Miramar Naval Air Station, near San Diego, Calif., completing a deployment to the Western Pacific aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation. His squadron, Fighter Squadron 96, flew over 6,000 hours in Southeast Asia, bombing supply routes in Laos in support of South Vietnamese and American forces.

Royce Flippin to Succeed Ken Fairman Here

Royce N. Flippin Jr., whose football and baseball achievements in the mid-1950's are still recalled as a bright chapter in the history of Princeton athletics, has been named as the University's Director of Athletics and Physical Education. Effective January 1, the 1956 Princeton graduate, a resident of White Plains, N.Y., will succeed R. Kenneth Fairman '34, who is retiring upon completing 34 years in charge of Princeton's many-faceted athletic program.

Announcement of the appointment, made Monday by President William G. Bowen, culminated a search of more than two months directed by Anthony J. Maruca, Vice-President for Administrative Affairs, and involving scores of consultations with students, members of the Faculty and Administration, coaches, officers of the Alumni Council, members of the Board of Trustees, alumni particularly interested in athletics, and athletic authorities at schools, colleges and universities across the country.

As Director-Designate, Flippin will enter upon part-time duties next Tuesday, and, after becoming Director on January 1, will also fulfill other business obligations until September, 1973, when his full time will be devoted to his new position.

Commitment to the Future. President Bowen said that the appointment of Flippin "gives us a welcome opportunity to reassert our strong commitment to athletics and to the importance of both intercollegiate and intramural sports to the life of the University. At this juncture in the evolution of athletics within higher education, I have been determined to find someone for this position with firm commitment to the principles of amateur athletics, with a capacity to work effectively with students, coaches and other members of the University community, and with both enthusiasm for the task and outstanding leadership ability. These are among the many strong qualities that characterize Royce Flippin, and I think we are extraordinarily fortunate to have him."

Handicapped by injuries in his junior and senior seasons, which forced him to miss 10 out of 27 games, Flippin was a brilliant two-way halfback, whose defensive abilities were overlooked in the light of his running, passing and punting. He was described by his Princeton coach, the late Charlie Caldwell, as "probably the outstanding offensive and defensive football player I have ever coached."

Flippin, whose background includes two years of graduate study at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration (M.B.A.), two years as an associate product manager with General Foods and five years as an investment broker with Smith, Barney & Co. Incorporated, is co-founder and president of the year-old First Spectrum Fund, Inc. The Fund is one of the first corporate responsibility mutual funds in the U.S. and also has a unique charitable contribution plan which facilitates donations by fund shareholders to philanthropic institutions.

Flippin and the former Louise Perdon, of Upper Montclair, were married in 1956 and are the parents of three children: Diane, 15; Royce 3d, 14; and Robert, 11. Mrs. Flippin, a graduate with the class of 1956 of the University of Delaware, received her master's degree in Special Education in 1970 from Queens College and is currently teaching in the White Plains School System.

An inspirational leader, who in the fall of 1955 served as Princeton's 84th captain of the Harrison Athletic Club.

In other action in the Princeton Adult Softball League, Staats Electric, definitely the dark horse team in the league, won two more and Teague and Hinds lost a pair to fall behind in the standings.

Harrison Athletic Club benefited from numerous Conte errors and the hitting of the Claghorn brothers to build an 8-3 lead over the Barmen after five innings. John Claghorn smashed a homer in the first and brother Dave connected for a two-run triple in the fourth to build HAC's lead.

Conte's rallied for three runs in the last inning but stranded the tying runs on second and third. Final score was 8 to 6.

Earlier, Conte's had stunned Ivy Inn with a brutalizing 21-hit attack for an 8-2 victory. Half of Ivy's eight hits came in the sixth when it scored its only two runs.

Staats continued to make believers of everyone following the league with a 4-3 shading of Teague and Hinds and an 8-2 triumph over Grover's Hustlers.

Against Teague's, Staats benefited from five Icemen errors, three of which led to runs. Staats jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first off hits by Bill and Rob Staats only to have Teague's tie it in the fifth on hits by Danny Alleyne, Bucky Melvin and Steve McLain. The Electricians pushed across the winning run in the last half of the eighth after the game had been knotted again at 3-3.

football, Flippin made a habit of giving outstanding performances against Yale. In 1954, for instance, after missing three games with a broken wrist, he left the bench and scored all three touchdowns in a 21-14 upset victory over Yale, including a 71-yard gallop and the winning score 16 seconds before the end of the game.

A serious knee injury, sustained in a pre-season scrimmage with Syracuse University, sidelined Flippin for almost the entire 1955 season. Week after week the team played without its captain until the Yale contest, the eighth game of the fall, when Flippin returned to action for 18 plays to score the first touchdown in a 13-0 conquest of Yale. The following week he sparked a 6-3 win over Dartmouth that clinched the Ivy League championship.

He won the Poe Cup, Princeton's highest football award, and with his teammate in both football and baseball, Franklin E. Agnew 3d shared the Roper Trophy, presented annually to the senior best combining "high scholastic rank, outstanding qualities of sportsmanship and general proficiency in athletics." As a three year regular in baseball, Flippin won major Princeton trophies and as a freshman earned numerals in track.

IVY INN LOSES FIRST Conte's Splits. Conte's Bar knocked off previously undefeated Ivy Inn last week but then failed to take advantage when it lost its next outing to Drinking on the fields and in the parking lots during games of the Princeton Adult Softball League has caused concern for the Recreation Department.

An ordinance forbids the possession or consumption of alcohol at Community Park, and the Recreation Department, which oversees the league, intends to enforce it.

We've brought it to the attention of Chief Porter," said Donald Barr, Recreation Director. "The police are going to be down there and make arrests if necessary."

"Hopefully, we can control it without causing too much embarrassment to the individual involved," added Barr, who reported that he has hand-delivered letters about the problem to the manager of each team. Just a few of the teams were responsible, he said.

WIN ONE, LOSE ONE: Conte's Bar aided by third baseman Thom Yoder (right) and catcher George Cirullo won its biggest game of the season last week when it handed Ivy Inn its first loss. Then it dropped its next start to Harrison Athletic Club in a game marked by poor defensive play by the Barmen. Yoder was an infielder for the PHS nine when he was named the school's most outstanding athlete four years ago. He graduated from Princeton University last month.

split, losing to Nassau-Conover Motors, 7-3, and topping Teague's 3-1 in a fine defensive game, which produced only 10 hits by both clubs.

In the latter, PAC scored all the runs it needed in the first when hits by Sam Proaccini, Jerry Perpetua and John Pesce produced two runs. Teague's only run came in the second as Cap Crossland, Fran Brooks and McLain combined for three hits.

Four runs in the first inning by Nassau-Conover was more than PAC could overcome. Pete Ferrara batted 4-for-4 for the Motormen.

In other games, HAC scored in every inning but one to defeat Nassau-Conover, 7-1, (the losers were held to four singles throughout the game) and Ivy Inn had an easy time with winless Andy's Tavern, winning, 10-3.

In the latter, Ivy's Tony Pi-rone belted two home runs in the first two innings as Ivy amassed 10 hits and eight runs after the first two frames. Shortstop Albie Toto was a perfect 3-for-3 at bat for the victors.

POST 76 WINS FINALE
For 7-15 Record. The Princeton Post 76 team ended its season last week — its first in Mercer County American Legion Baseball — by defeating North Trenton Post 458, 5-1, for a season mark of 7-15.

The team finished in fourth place behind Ewing, champions of the Northern Division, and Lawrence and Hopewell. North Trenton finished in the cellar.

Winning pitcher John Mooney (4-3) got off to a shaky start against North Trenton as he walked three in the first and gave up a hit to allow Post 458 its only run. Post 76 immediately tied it in the same inning when Kent Bain singled home Chris Crane who had doubled.

The victors added another run in the fourth and cemented their win with three more in the fifth on singles by Bob Zinsmeister, Crane, Bain and Mike Carlucci.

Earlier the team lost 8-4, to Ewing Post 314, Lance Marshall taking the loss.

Post 76 scored three unearned runs in the fifth to earn a 4-4 tie, but Ewing came back with a pair in the same inning and two more in the next to wrap it up.

MORE RECORDS FALL

To Princeton Swimmers. Another cluster of state records fell to Princeton last week as pools throughout the state churned with swimmers gearing up for AAU meets and Olympic time trials.

At a Junior Olympics qualifying meet in Metuchen Sunday, Beaver O'Hara, 12, set a state record of 28.3 in the 50-meter freestyle for boys 11-12, bettering the old mark of 29.5. He already holds the state championship in the 100-meter freestyle and 200-meter individual medley.

MEN'S SINGLES WINNER Bill Foreman (right) won the Princeton YMCA men's singles tennis championship last week when he defeated the number one seed, Ken Wilson. In the middle is the tournament director, Dr. John Boumon. Story this page.

At the same meet, Bobby Hiel, 10, set a record of 3:00.1 in the 200-meter individual medley for boys 10 and under. Two weeks ago, he set a state record in the 100-meter freestyle.

O'Hara also took a second in the 200-meter individual medley in the AAU Region 1 Championships held Saturday at Clifton Knowles, N. Y. His time of 2:39.0 was less than a second behind the winner and faster than the previous meet record. He captured a third in the 100-meter free with a clocking of 1:02.7 — three-tenths of a second behind the winner.

Others from Princeton who qualified for the Junior Olympic Finals by placing among the top six finishers are Gretchen Wendel, Martha Kinney and Mike Reock.

12 of 20. Cathy Corcione, Mal Howard and Kent Duffy, who have been working this summer with Bill Farley at the Community Park Pool, swept 12 of 20 possible senior state swimming championships last week at the Driftwood Swim Club in Long Branch.

Miss Corcione, who has already qualified for the Olympic Trials to be held in Chicago, set state records in all six events she entered: 100-meter freestyle, 200-meter free, 200- and 400-meter individual medley, 200-meter backstroke and 100-meter butterfly. She will swim the 100-free and 200-individual medley in the Olympic Trials.

Ken Duffy won four championships in the 100- and 200-meter freestyle, and 100- and 200-meter butterfly. He placed second in the 400-free. Mal Howard, a member of the Princeton University varsity swimming team, captured gold medals in the 200- and 400-meter individual medley. He came in second in the 200-breaststroke and third in the 100-breaststroke.

Chuck Hector of Princeton took a second place in the 100-breaststroke and a fourth in the 200. Others who placed in the meet are Peter Manieri, Martha Kinney and Maura Horgan.

Earlier this month, Greg Lauffer, 14-year-old Princeton swimmer, qualified for the Clifton Knowles meet by placing second in the 100-meter backstroke at a qualifying meet held in Westwood. His time was 1:14.7. He placed third in the 200-meter individual medley.

MEN'S SINGLES WON

By Bill Foreman. Second seeded Bill Foreman, tennis pro at the Nassau Racquet Club, won the Princeton YMCA men's singles championship last week when he defeated Ken Wilson, the top seed and 1971 finalist. Scores were 6-3, 6-3.

In the consolation singles, Larry Kudlow, a Princeton University graduate student, defeated Doug Wengel, 6-3, 6-2.

In an exciting, two and one-half hour match, Princeton University player Jeff Oakes, seeded No. 8, and Tod Hess, Swarthmore player, won the men's doubles crown. They defeated Steve Kraft, Harvard University senior, and Danny Thompson, No. 2 singles player for Princeton High School, 6-4, 6-7, 7-6. Oakes, Hess, and Kraft are all instructors in the Princeton Community Tennis program.

In the consolation doubles, Fritz Dumpel, recently returned from two years in India and a former Princeton singles champion, and Will Robbins defeated Charles Clark and Doug Wengel, 6-2, 6-1.

FORRESTAL BEATEN

ETS Leads in BSL. ETS was able to claim sole possession of first place last week, as Forrestal, which had a share of the top spot, lost to RCA A, 8-3. McGraw-Hill maintained a two-game lead in the western division with a perfect 10-0 mark.

RCA pitcher Ron Henderson limited heavy hitting Forrestal to just three runs on eight hits and collected two hits to help his own cause. Bill Procaccini and Murry Wood had three hits each.

ETS, meanwhile, beat Hopewell TV, 6-5. Bob Hinz and Mike DeAngelo with three hits apiece led ERC to a 14-3 win over NAPLC. Firmenich won 9-5 over RCA B. In the other

BOARD CHAIRMAN NAMED
At Princeton Datafilm, Frank H. Erdman, Lawrenceville Road has been elected Chairman of the Board of Princeton Datafilm, Inc. Theodore C. Slosson, Jr., President, has announced.

Mr. Slosson indicated that he will continue to be the chief administrative officer of Princeton Datafilm, as well as devote much of his time to the publishing arm of the corporation which is engaged in microfilming and marketing back issues of periodicals.

Mr. Erdman will assume the responsibilities of chief executive officer and also concentrate his efforts on the line of low cost microfilm readers developed through READ, Inc., a subsidiary of Princeton Datafilm, Inc.

A 1941 graduate of Swathmore College, Mr. Erdman joined the Applied Research Department of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation in 1941 and subsequently became Head of the Applied Mechanics Section. From 1946 to 1953 he was associated with the McDonnell Aircraft Corporation, where he held a series of management positions of increasing responsibility, becoming Assistant to the President in 1952.

In 1953, he became Vice President of Experiment, Inc. (now a subsidiary of Texaco), a research and development firm specializing in solid and liquid propellant propulsion systems and commercial product development. From 1953 to 1958, Mr. Erdman was President of the U.S.I. Technical Center, a division of the U.S. Industries, Inc. He was appointed Vice-President, New Business Programs, of RCA in 1961.

Edwin W. Hall

MANAGER NAMED

For Weidel Office Here. Karl Weidel, Inc., Realtors, have announced the appointment of Edwin W. Hall of Moore Street as manager of the firm's Princeton office.

Mr. Hall attended Princeton University and Rutgers Extension University. He brings several years experience in sales and sales management to his present position, including seven years as branch manager of SCM Corporation. Mr. Hall has resided in Princeton for 28 years and is married to the former Lillian Hult. This is his third year with the Weidel organization.

GAS FROM COAL

FMC in Joint Venture. FMC Corporation and two Houston-based gas companies have joined forces to further develop technology and to commence the design of commercial plants which would convert coal into pollution-free gas and synthetic crude oil.

The work will be carried out principally at FMC's chemical facility at Princeton. The initial work to be undertaken has the primary objective of constructing a pilot gasification plant to demonstrate the process feasibility of a commercial sized plant.

Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line

Frank H. Erdman

Company and Tennessee Gas Pipe Line Company, a Division of Tenneco Inc., have agreed to join FMC in exploiting the technological potential of the COGAS process, a concept for converting coal into critically needed pipeline quality gas and synthetic crude oil. The COGAS Process is an exclusive development of FMC.

Meet Erwin Weiland, Dollar Stretcher:

He works with subscribers and physicians to help conserve your health-care dollars.

Erwin is the Manager of Blue Shield's Utilization Review Section. He and his experienced staff examine thousands of claims, hospital records and computer profiles of medical practice to make sure that Blue Shield benefits are not improperly paid. Their job is to detect, eliminate and prevent abuse or over-use of benefits. They also conduct educational programs to acquaint physicians and subscribers with these cost control measures. Their function, in brief, is to deliver a greater return for your health-care dollar.

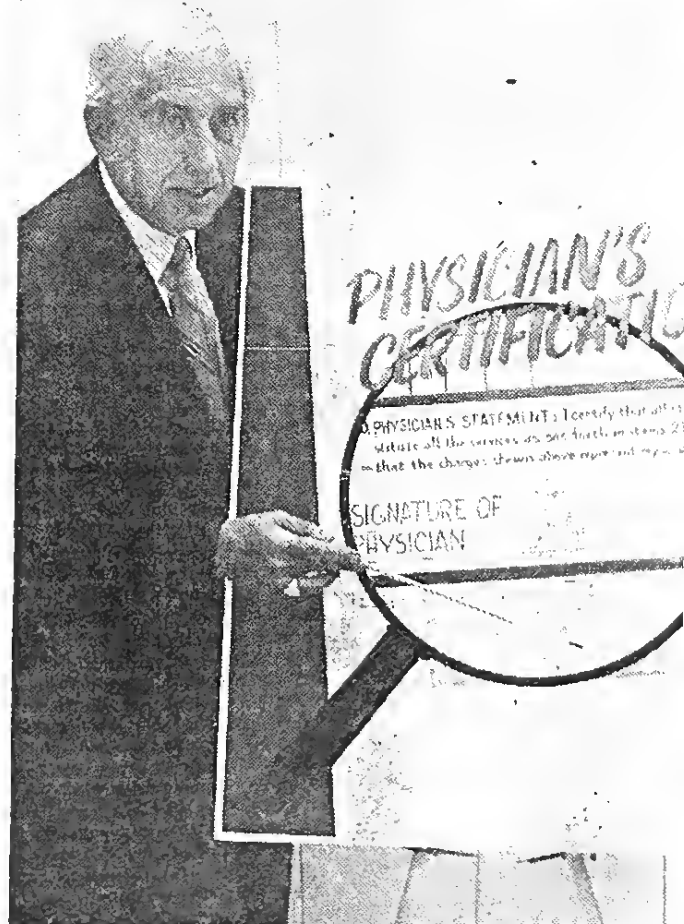

And the people in our Blue Cross Provider Reimbursement Department also conserve your health-care dollars. By auditing cost reports from our member hospitals they make sure we neither overpay nor underpay any hospital for its services.

FIRST PLACE CLINCHED

By Roma Eterna. With one week to go in the PYBA Little League, Roma Eterna won two games last week to clinch first place in the eight-team league. Roma is undefeated in 13 games. Entrenched in second place is Hook & Ladder at 11-2 but there is a battle still for third between Post 76 (8-5) and Eagles (7-6).

Roma remained unbeaten with an 8-2 win over the Italian-American Sportsman's Club. Carl Nazzaro and Seth Sanders sharing in the win. Catcher Bruno Perna of IASC turned in the defensive highlight of the game by tagging out two runners on the same play, one behind the other.

Ahead 13-1 in the fifth, the Eagles saw their lead melt as Engine No. 1 rallied for nine runs. Bruce Cleveland led the comeback with a grand slam but the Eagles managed to hang on for a 13-10 win. Ricky Johnson had a grand slam for the victors.

The Elks edged Engine No. 3, 3-2, as a result of a fine throw from nine-year-old Kevin Johnson to catcher Keiran Esposito that cut down the tying run and preserved victory for Frank DeMeglio.

Hook & Ladder and Post 76 engaged in a seesaw struggle before the Firemen won it, 7-6. A homer with one on by Post's Bobby Cronin cut an early HLL lead to 3-2, and the 76ers went ahead, 6-5, in the top of the sixth on a triple by Mark Pittman.

But H&L rallied again on hits by John Miller, Charles Waaben and Tom Ferguson. John Heintzel drove in the winning run.

Last Tuesday, Roma had an easy time against Engine No. 3 as John Boccanfuso two-hit the losers and struck out 15. Justin Leuper and Mike Miller were the only two to get on base for Engine No. 3 in Roma's 9-1 win.

A leadoff triple in the sixth by Jon Miller followed by hits by Louis Davis, Joe Lapsley and winning pitcher Tom Ferguson produced three runs for Hook & Ladder and a 4-2 decision over Elks.

Pitcher Woody Clark struck out seven and connected for three hits, one a homer, to lead Post 76 to a 5-2 triumph over Engine No. 3. Tim Bolster, Bobby Mangone and Paul Leintzel each had two hits for the winners. Morgan Mohrman fanned nine for the losers.

The Eagles outslugged IASC, 13-8, powered by home runs from John Silverman and Jim Baxter and four hits by Eagle starter Jim McCarthy. Ricky Johnson relieved. Sam Bianco and Bruno Perna had three hits apiece for the Sportsmen.

In earlier games, IASC defeated Engine No. 1, Post 76 won by forfeit over Engine No. 3, and Eagles got by Elks, 6-5, when John Silverman stole home with the winning run. In the latter, winning pitcher Jim Baxter aided his own cause with three hits.

GREEN OUTLASTS BLUE

In Summer Lacrosse. Green last week evened its record at 2-2 in the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League when it scored four goals in the first period and went on to outlast Blue, 11-9. Jim Kopliner of Blue and Phil Nollner of Green each scored five goals.

Nollner was backed up by Coley Donaldson who scored three times and by Steve Deveccio, Dave DeMauro and Brooks Mohrman who added single tallies. Mohrman also had three assists.

Also scoring for Blue were Pete McCrohan, who had a pair, and Jim Campbell and Harold Stokes.

Navy won by forfeit over Red, which did not have enough players, to remain in first place with a 3-1 record.

The game was played any way after Red "borrowed" McCrohan from Blue and Red scored a phantom 5-4 victory. McCrohan and Bob Cooper, who co-captained the Princeton High School stickmen a few years back, each had two goals and Don Pettit one for Red.

Jim Fitzpatrick, two goals, and Steve Jacobson and Mark Belli accounted for Navy's scoring.

PBA PULLS AWAY

In Babe Ruth League. In action last week in the Babe Ruth Division of the Princeton Youth Baseball League, PBA won two, N.Y. Life lost two, and Thorne's and Princeton Bank & Trust each split a pair.

As a result, PBA has a commanding 7-1 record. PB&T and N.Y. Life have identical 3-4-1 marks, while Thorne's is 2-6.

In games Monday, PBA defeated PB&T, 3-1, and Thorne's edged N.Y. Life, 9-8. In the former, PBA took a 1-0 lead in the first on consecutive singles by Ed Volz, Pat Kahny, and Jeff Petrone. A single by Eric John, an error and Mike Boccanfuso's double in the second brought the PBA squad two more runs.

PB&T combined walks and a single by Bill Barrish for its run. Bob McHugh won it; Felix Brown took the loss.

Thorne's tied its seesaw game with N.Y. Life in the seventh on a triple by Terry McEwen. McEwen then scored the winning run on a squeeze but by Dave Shillaber to make a winner of pitcher Jim LaPlaca. Singles by Larry Howell and Bill Crane followed by a triple by Pete Neuwirth gave Thorne's an early 3-0 lead.

NYL came back with a pair in the second, however, when Pete Soderman and Greg Robinson connected for doubles and Scott Thompson singled home Robinson. Soderman ended with three hits for the losers; Shillaber had two for Thorne's.

Last Wednesday, Thorne's found itself on the losing end of a 9-8 decision, as PB&T came up with five runs in the last inning to win. The decisive hit was Sam Fussell's single with the bases loaded. Winning pitcher Dan Clohossey helped his cause with a triple.

Larry Howell with a homer and two singles was the batting star for the losers. Mike and Dave Shillaber also had two singles apiece but it wasn't enough as Jim LaPlaca was charged with the loss.

PBA spotted N.Y. Life four runs in the first inning and then shut the door the rest of the way en route to a 15-4 victory. Paul and Peter Soderman, Mike Moonin, Jim LaPlaca and Greg Robinson bunched singles in the first for those four runs but Joe Herrmann was air tight after that.

NYL's lead failed to last the inning as PBA bounced back with six in the first behind the hitting of Mike Boccanfuso, Ed Volz, Jeff Bartolino and Jeff Petrone's double.

Six walks and Volz's double in the fifth produced six more runs.

NASSAU CLUB WINNER

In Off-Age Swimming Meet. More than 500 individual entries and 60 relay teams competed last Thursday and Friday in the Princeton Area Off-Age Championships at Brooktree Swim Club in East Windsor. Twelve swim clubs were represented.

Nassau Swim Club of Princeton took first team trophy with a total of 229½ points, Brooktree second with 175, and Valley third with 140.

Outstanding individual performances were turned in by Bobby Heil of Ben Franklin Club, and Link Doyle of Valley, each of whom won four gold medals. Elise McKay, of Flemington-Raritan, won three gold medals.

The Off-age championship, by now a fixture in the summer swimming schedule, was initiated several years ago in an effort to give swimmers who were in the lower half of each regular age group a chance to be at the top once during the year.

Thus, an 11-year-old, who normally swims in the 11/12 age group, and is at a disadvantage with 12-year-olds, has an opportunity at this meet to be at the top of his age group.

Other clubs and their standings were: Ben Franklin, 113; Flemington - Raritan, 96; Crosswicks, 85; Stony Brook, 82; Cranbury, 72½; Lawrenceville, 51; Pennbrook, 48; Bedens Brook, 45; Ravine, 43.

Other winners were: Carrie Bolster, Jennifer Wagner, Kurt Smith, Diana Caskey, Brian Warnet, Val Heil, Bill Stevenson, Debbie McGinnis, Tracy Kuhn, Jane Holman, Marc Coutin, Jan Denise, Mike Doyle, Carrie Kidd, and Linda Shillinger.

Also, Steve Delahanty, Mary Lee Damutz, Rick Gavenda, Sue Gavenda, Benn Doyle, Margaret Martin, John Tommenchok, Norma Voegtlin, Brent Nelson, Mary Bolster, and Mike Silverman.

FIRST GAME FRIDAY

For PYBA All Stars. The Princeton Youth Baseball Association All-Star team will defeat its Trenton PAL championship Friday night at 6 at Betts Field in North Trenton when the team will play its first game. The PAL event is a double elimination tournament.

Four players from Hook & Ladder head the All-Star team which is sponsored by the Princeton Motor Lodge. They are Jon Miller, Tom Ferguson, Charles Waaben and Louis Davis. Three are from the league-leading Roma Eterna nine: John Boccanfuso, Seth Sanders, and Carl Nassaro.

Others are Bobby Cronin, Post 76; Tony Opperman, Elks; Jim Baxter; Justin Leuper, Engine No. 3; Morgan Mohrman and Robert Mangone, Engine No. 1; and Bruno Perna and Dave Sally from Italian-American Sportsman's Club.

MacDIARMID IS SECOND

In Hennessey Grand Prix. Bruce MacDiarmid, owner of Nassau Liquors, finished second last week in the outboard division of the Hennessey Grand Prix power boat race held last week off Point Pleasant.

MacDiarmid, who led most of the way, lost first place to Stuart Jackson of Philadelphia by 37 seconds. "To lose by just 37 seconds after 180 miles -- that hurts," commented MacDiarmid. Despite the loss, he still picked up 100 points and remains in contention to win the national outboard championship.

Next month, MacDiarmid will compete in another Hennessey race, this one off the coast of California. "The boat is already on its way," he said.

UNSEEDER PLAYERS WIN

In Jr. Tennis Tournament. Unseeded players won in both the boys and girls divisions of the Princeton Junior Tennis Championships held last week at Community Park Courts.

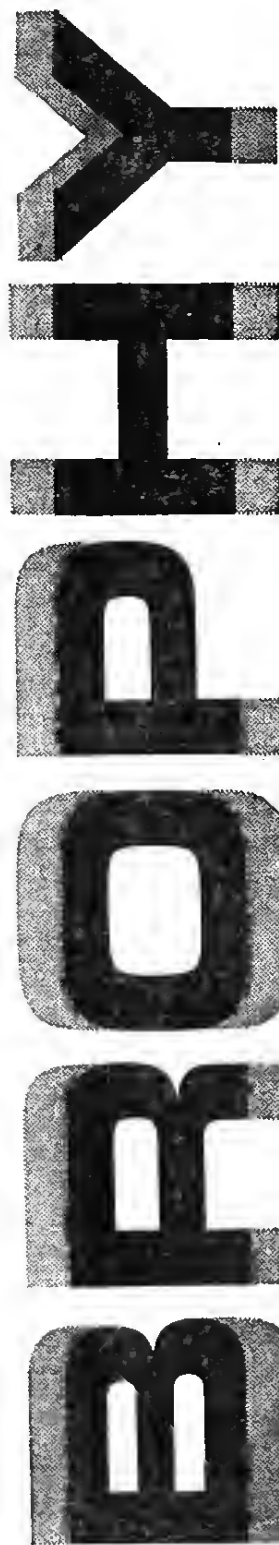

In the boys 12 and under, unseeded Simeon Hutner shocked Jim Parmele, seeded No. 1, 6-0, 6-2. En route, Hutner defeated Joel Schulman and Allan Aronovic, the second and third seeds. Parmele defeated Bobby Baumer, seeded fourth, in the semi-final round to reach the finals against Hutner.

In the girls 12 and under, unseeded Jane Arrington defeated Amy Lessing, also unseeded, in the finals, 6-2, 7-5. On her way, Jane stopped third seed Lucy Baruch in three sets and the number one seed, Michele Newman, 6-3, 7-5. Amy advanced to the finals by upsetting Liza Constable and Hope Mead.

Others participating in the tournament were: Theresa Lane, Pary Cahill, Martha

EXCHANGE MATCHES HELD

On Princeton Courts. Two exchange matches, one with Westfield and the other with Pennsbury, Pa., were held this month among members of the Princeton Community Tennis Program to give them a chance to gain additional experience in competitive play. A third exchange against Levittown, Pa. will be held Monday.

Taking part in the Westfield match were Ed McMahon, Kevin Hoffman, Tim Brush, Paul Berkelhammer, Ray Kang, Allan Aronovic, Dan Schulman, Lisa Morgan and Jim Parmele.

Those comprising the advanced Princeton team against Pennsbury were Ivan Klarich, Ward Sloane, Ed McMahon, Paul Berkelhammer, Liza Constable, Sarah Woodworth, Ann Wittke, Wendy Peterson, Ray Kang, Michael Barry, Billy Parsons, Evan Press, Kevin Hoffman, Bobby Baumer, Todd Miller, Alyson Flournoy, Katie Jackson, Orren Weisberg, Kim Peterson, Jane Arrington, Beth Oblesby, Sandra Meyerhofer, Lucy Baruch, and Dianne Barry.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS

Playground Meet. The High School playground ended the mastery of Grover Avenue playground last week when it won the Princeton playgrounds' New Jersey Olympics Development meet with 89 points. Grover ended with 84. Far back in third place was Littlebrook with 24 points, followed by Harrison Street and Community Park, 10 points, Riverside, 7 points, and Pine Street, 5.

WINNERS ARE NAMED

In Round Robin Tournament. Jeff Lyle and Tad Davies were the winners in last week's weekly tennis round robin tournament held at the Badens Brook Club.

Runners up were Paul Corban and Jim Hughes and Chris Burchfield and Robbie Littell.

COMPLETION DATE SET

For Athletic Complex. A new athletic complex at Assunpink Park will be ready for use during the week of August 21, according to the Mercer County Park Commission.

The complex is the first phase of an extensive program planned for the development of cultural and recreational facilities in the park, a 3,000-acre tract in West Windsor, Hamilton and Lawrence Townships.

The new complex will include two baseball fields, two softball fields, two combination softball-football fields and eight basketball courts. The facilities will have lighting for nighttime play.

Work on the athletic fields had been hampered by the heavy rains last month. It now appears that the facilities will be ready for use by August 21, with the exception of the softball fields.

The development of the Assunpink and Rosedale Parks (formerly Stony Brook Park), which will give the county some of the best multi-purpose park complexes around, are among the high priority projects of the Park Commission.

The feature of the Assunpink project will be a 200-acre lake to be used for water recreation and fishing. A stadium, arena, theatre, golf courses, tennis center, zoo and children's playlands are being planned. There will also be facilities for horseback riding and athletics of every kind, hiking trails, a children's recreation area and facilities for senior citizens.

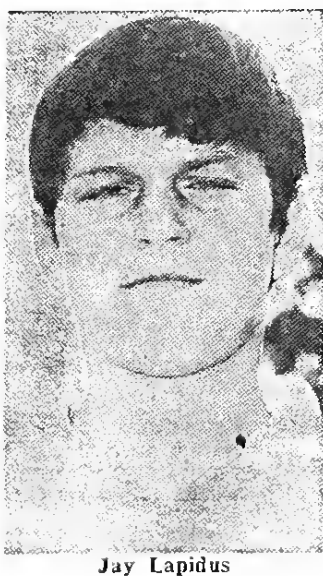

Similar development is being planned for Rosedale Park, a 472-acre area in Hopewell Township off Route 518 Spur.

LAPIDUS TO COMPETE

In Tennis Nationals. Jay Lapidus of 149 Galbreath Drive has been accepted in the U.S. National Boys 14-and-under tournament which will be held at Davidson College in North Carolina, starting Tuesday. Entries are restricted to the top 64 players in the country aged 13-14.

Last year, Jay competed in the 12-and-under Nationals and in several other Middle States Lawn Tennis Association tournaments. He was ranked second in the MSLTA in his division.

This season, competing in the 14-and-under division, he has reached the finals in two MSLTA tournaments and the quarter finals in another. The most recent was the Princeton Middle States tournament, where he reached the finals in both the singles and doubles competition. More than 100 boys participated in his division.

Obituaries

Mrs. George Ann S. Gillespie, 50, died July 18 at her home, 51 Lovers Lane. She was a watercolorist, whose paintings have been exhibited in the United States, Italy and Cambodia.

Born in Arlington, Va., she attended the Cochran Art Institute in Washington, D. C. She was a well-known artist and teacher and had conducted classes at the Stuart Country Day School and the Princeton Adult School. She became a Princeton resident eight years ago.

Surviving are her husband, Eugene P. Gillespie; two sons, William at home and Peter of Baltimore, Md.; a daughter, George Ann at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Smith of Washington, D. C., and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Bittinger of Arlington, Va., and Mrs. Tifford Jones of Chevy Chase, Md.

Graveside services were held privately in Arlington National Cemetery. The Kimble Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Memorial gifts may be sent to the Princeton University Chapel.

Nicholas Dertouzos, 79, of 258 Hawthorne Avenue, died July 22 in Princeton Medical Center after brief illness. He was the husband of Mrs. Ourania B. Dertouzos.

A native of Andros Island, Greece, Mr. Dertouzos became a Princeton resident in 1911 and attended special studies in the chemistry department of Princeton University. For 25 years he was supervisor of the bakery at the Princeton University commons. Later, he was employed at Princeton Theological Seminary until his retirement.

He was a member of Princeton Lodge No. 38 F&AM and was an active member of St. George's Greek Orthodox Church, Trenton.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Emilio Arcamone of Princeton Junction; a son, Dr. Demetrios N. Dertouzos of Trenton; five grandchildren and, in Greece, two sisters and a brother.

The service was held in the Kimble Funeral Home, followed by another in St. George's Greek Orthodox Church, conducted by the Rev. Peter Alesales. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Memorial gifts may be made to Princeton Medical Center.

Miss Phoebe W. Whitney, 56, died July 25 at her home, 8 Aiken Avenue.

A native of Bronxville, N.Y.,

Miss Whitney lived in Princeton for a number of years. She was the daughter of the late Caspar and Florence Whitney. A sister, Mrs. Hibben Ziesing, of Princeton survives.

There will be a memorial service at 3 this Thursday in the Lady Chapel of Trinity Episcopal Church. In lieu of flowers, memorial gifts may be sent to the National Association for Retarded Children, 2709 Avenue E, Arlington, Texas, for research in mongolism.

Arrangements were made by the Mather Funeral Home.

Frederick Briggman, 85, of Province Line Road, died July 23 in Princeton Medical Center. He was a retired heating engineer.

A Princeton resident for 40 years, Mr. Briggman retired in 1956 from employment at St. Michael's Children's Home, Hopewell. He was previously with Palmer Square, Inc.

Surviving are his wife, Pauline K. Briggman; a son, Robert F. of Lawrenceville; two daughters, Mrs. Howard Beck of Ottawa, Ill., and Mrs. Roy Herman of Irvington; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The service was held in the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. John C. Carr officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Frances G. DeCou, 75, of 2695 Main Street, Lawrenceville, died July 22. She was the wife of Samuel S. DeCou Jr.

A life-long resident of Lawrenceville, Mrs. DeCou was a former president of the Rosedale Homemakers.

In addition to her husband she is survived by a son, Samuel S. DeCou 3d of Pittsburgh, Pa., and three grandchildren.

The service was held in the Blackwell Memorial Home, Pennington, with the Rev. Edward D. Slusser of Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Lawrenceville Cemetery.

Albert Yates, 79, of 1322 North "N" Street, Lake Worth, Fla., formerly of The Great Road, died July 12 at his home after a brief illness. He was a retired gardener.

Born in Princeton and a resident here until two years ago, Mr. Yates was a former member of the Westerly Road Church.

Surviving are his wife, Hulda H. Yates; a son, A. Norman Yates of West Palm Beach Fla.; a daughter, Mrs. David Mitchell of Alexandria, Va., and four grandchildren.

The service was held in the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Edward H. Morgan of Westerly Road Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

News Of The CHURCHES

RABBI MATT NAMED

To Media Judaica Unit. Rabbi Hershell J. Matt of Princeton Jewish Center has been appointed senior consulting editor of the Prayer Book Press of Media Judaica, Bridgeport, Conn. He is the recipient of a one-year research grant in contemporary Jewish liturgy, Fellowship and Media Judaica, time as spiritual leader at the sponsored by the Tree of Life Center, will be responsible for producing experimental worship texts, instructional pamphlets and aids to Jewish worship and ceremonial observances.

He will also serve as consultant to other liturgical projects of Media Judaica, whose prayer book press is considered one of the country's leading liturgical publishers.

As a result of Rabbi Matt's appointment and grant, the Jewish Center will serve as a pilot congregation for the experimental use of new worship services. Several other congregations in the United States and Canada have also been selected for this experimental programming.

Rabbi Matt has been with the Jewish Center for two years, previously serving in Nashua, N. H.; Troy, N. Y., and in Metuchen. Ordained at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in 1947, he is a member of the Rabbinical Assembly, the national organization of Conservative rabbis, and formerly served as chairman of its committee on home and synagogue practice.

In Princeton, he has been active in the Pastors' Association, which he currently serves as vice-president. He is a member of the board of the Princeton Interfaith Council and of the non-denominational Trinity Counseling Service.

REV. GWYNN TO PREACH

At Trinity. The Rev. E. John Gwynn will preach at his final service as a member of the Trinity Church staff at 10 this Sunday. He plans to stay in Princeton and devote full time to a minority economic venture based here.

The Rev. Mr. Gwynn, a clergyman at Trinity since July 1969, is a native of Baltimore and was educated at Towson (Md.) State College and Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass. Since joining the Trinity, he has been active in community concerns and has given leadership in many projects with the Christian Action Board of the parish.

In his letter of resignation to the vestry, he stated, "I am taking this action so that I may be able to concentrate my time and energy more fully and vigorously in the area of economic development, an area in which we have all been deeply involved for the past three years."

"If we are successful, I think a small answer will be found to the question of where financial resources for the survival of minority peoples can be found. This still remains the major goal of my ministry."

A social hour will follow Sunday's service as a farewell for the Rev. Mr. Gwynn. He and his wife, Barbara, and their two children will continue to reside at 42 Monroe Road.

LEN BROWN TO PREACH

In University Chapel. Leonard G. Brown will conduct the 10 a.m. service this Sunday in University Chapel. A member of the Class of 1971, he is director of the Princeton Youth Center and summer director of the University-sponsored summer camp near Blairstown.

The offering will go to the Princeton Summer Camp now in its 58th season. The camp is operated by undergraduates for young people for the area this year.

Organist this summer is David of Parsons, a music major, who is studying organ with

Rabbi Hershell J. Matt

Carl Weinrich. He is a member of the Class of 1972. Robert C. Miller Jr., of the class of 1958, is responsible for ushering and refreshments following the services.

PLAN HARVEST HOME

In Griggstown. The annual Harvest Home Festival of Griggstown Reformed Church will be held from 5 to 10 p.m. on Saturday, August 12, at the church on Canal Road. Rain or shine.

Events include a concert by the Blawenburg Band, hay rides and games. Corn on the cob will be served, as well as hot sausage sandwiches and fresh fruit on cake a la mode. There will be Harvest tables to browse and white elephant and fancy stands.

BULLETIN NOTES

The midsummer service will be held at 9:30 a.m. this Sunday in Princeton Unitarian Church with the Rev. Robert R. Cope preaching. He attended the denomination's General Assembly in Dallas.

Rev. George Swaczey will conduct the summer union service of Princeton Presbyterians at 10 on Sunday in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

NEAR THE COUNTRY CLUB

Pine Knoll is a unique area in Lawrence Township. The homes are exceptional and the selling is spectacular. Our newest listing, a grand two story colonial, is surrounded by wooded privacy. It features a living room with fireplace that is convenient to the out of doors, a dining room that can accommodate an elegant dinner party, a truly big country kitchen, and a cheerful family room. All four bedrooms are actually big, with the master having its own bath. Keep your promise to her and live near a country club for $50,900

HOMERICA REPRESENTATIVE

BROOKS AND BIRCHES

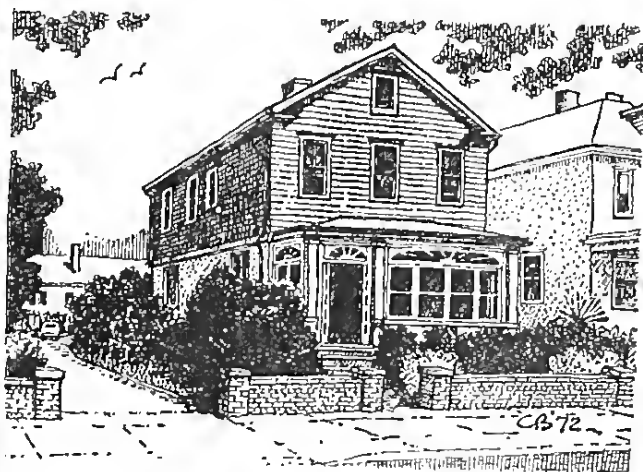

High above a brook and surrounded by white birches is a lovely cedar shake Colonial built to withstand the elements. From the charming fireplace in the living room to the wide angle bay in the eat-in kitchen, you can feel a special house to be lived in. The four large bedrooms (including a master) and two full baths upstairs could easily accommodate four children if you can ever get them up to bed from the paneled family room. A naturally big home in an exclusive neighborhood of Princeton. $69,500

NEAR THE TENNIS COURTS

Near the station, and near the high school with its community oriented Olympic size swimming pool is a spacious home with a realistic asking price. Plush carpeting in the living room and dining room, eat-in kitchen, four bedrooms, and a wonderful family room with fireplace. Walk to everything West Windsor has to offer including wifertime skating on Grover's Mill Pond. $42,500

Our newest offering — a small brick and frame house that's fun, and perfect for the young family looking for trees, land, privacy. Living room with fireplace, dining ell, good kitchen. Nice master bedroom with bath, bedroom and study (or third bedroom, second bath). Family room opening to a sunken patio. Oversized double garage. And all in spic and span condition — even the parts that don't show. On almost an acre and a half, with woods at the rear. Excellent West Windsor schools. We think this is a cream puff that won't last long at $42,500

Investment property. Small older house on quiet, central Boro side street, offers two rental apartments. Deep lot with off street parking, for tenants, others. Good, steady income — or live in one unit, rent free! A new listing at $44,500

Stone and wood California type design, all on one floor. Slate and vinyl floors, two way stone fireplace. 6 rooms. Enchanting secluded double lot allows for expansion. Houses on this street don't stay on the market long! Now $53,500

New listing in Riverside. Pretty lot, small house. Three bedrooms, separate dining room, huge family room. Privacy. $61,000

FANCY YOURSELF PICKING YOUR OWN FRUIT!
This immaculate Cape Cod, on over an acre of ground is abundantly planted with fruit trees of all kinds. You'll live in the country, yet the children easily walk to the excellent Montgomery schools. Slate entrance hall leads to a lovely large living room with fireplace and built-in book shelves, formal dining room opens to a covered porch with a pretty hillside view, good modern kitchen, den, three bedrooms and 2 baths — all on one floor. Upstairs are two more large bedrooms and a roughed-in bath. The basement opens on the slope of the land to let in the light and is so big you can store anything — even a boat! The double garage has electric openers and there is a built-in fire alarm system. Both the house and landscaping are excellent! Available for school.

OPPORTUNITY

West Windsor Twp. — 20+ acres with almost 700' road frontage. Within 5 minutes of Princeton Junction Station, 8 minutes to Nassau Street. The property contains a 2 story Dutch Colonial, frame ranch and older farm home — potential rental income of $800-$900 a month. In addition, there is a 50' greenhouse, heated and separate well, a 1/2 acre spring fed pond, detached 2 car garage with loft and outside stairway, frame barn and wagon shed and various other outbuildings. Many rose bushes, fruit trees, dogwoods, flowering shrubs and 5000 evergreen seedlings. Consider acreage prices only, within radius of 8 minutes to Nassau St., if you can find any. Including all the extras above and we consider this an opportunity at $175,000

HOW ABOUT A FACTORY IN HOPEWELL TO CALL YOUR OWN? It's a nice spot for escaping, perfect for a studio, great storage if you need a warehouse, not bad for assembling, addressing, you-name-it! Terms. $22,500

A TOUCH OF CREOLE AT 9 FAIRWAY DRIVE! Just in the heart of Princeton's choice Brookstone area rests with dignity a white brick and shake colonial with a wrought iron balcony to remind one of the gracious days of yore! Built 14 years ago (when plaster walls were just becoming a luxury), the entire interior reflects the good quality not to be found too often nowadays. Space is evident everywhere but especially in the 17'x29' front-to-back living room with large windows at each end and a gas-burning, log fireplace. Comfortable dining room, paneled study, screened porch, efficient kitchen with dining area, utility room, and powder room amply round off the first floor. Upstairs features four corner bedrooms, one a master with dressing area and bath, a hall bath, and oops . . . there's a separate staircase leading to an entire suite of bedroom and bath. The basement has lots of possibilities, including a dark room. Two acres in all with a fenced almost-new Sylvan swimming pool. Lots of trees and privacy $137,500

GLOVER LANE . . . Built 13 years ago by its present owners and only a stone's throw from the Littlebrook School, a split colonial on a park-like lot . . . tall trees, shrubs, completely fenced yard, picnic grove! House features entry, living room, dining room, fully equipped kitchen, three bedrooms, two baths, utility room with washer and dryer, attic storage, basement, two-car garage, lots of expansion possibilities. Centrally air-conditioned. $56,500

LIKE TO LIVE NEAR A BATTLEFIELD AND YET KEEP YOUR COOL? How about a centrally air-conditioned pink brick ranch on Parkside Drive? Large living room & fireplace, dining room, sunny kitchen, two bedrooms, two baths, paneled den with wet bar and powder room. Full basement, huge attic! Nice grounds. $99,500

WHAT COULD BE SWEETER THAN A STATELY SOUTHERN COLONIAL IN PRINCETON'S WESTERN SECTION? Brick in construction, southern in design, built by its present owner for the ultimate in comfort and quality. Foyer with powder room, step-down living room with elegant fireplace, richly paneled library with corner fireplace; weatherized sunporch, dining room with french doors to the patio (OVER-LOOKING THE POOL), large kitchen, maid's room and bath. Upstairs a master suite with bath, three other bedrooms and full bath. On two acres within walking distance of town. $125,000

WHAT A FANTASTIC VIEW from this 4 bedroom country colonial! There's also a living room, dining room, kitchen, den and 2 1/2 baths. If you tire of enjoying the view, dunk in the 16x32 pool and forget the summer heat. Even without the wooded lot, it'd be a steal at $44,900

BEAUTIFUL BRICK RANCH ON A QUIET PRINCETON STREET. A custom built brick ranch with three bedrooms, 2 baths, extra large eat-in kitchen with adjacent laundry room, a log burning fireplace in the living room and another in the basement. Central air and big brick patio. Don't disturb this quiet neighborhood by driving by but call us to

WANT A RANCH WITH A VIEW? 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, living room with brick fireplace, dining ell, modern kitchen, den and 2 car garage. Located in Montgomery Twp. and priced at $43,900

WHO'D WANT TO LIVE IN A BARN? Nobody but the most discriminating person looking for a most unusual home should be the owner of this spacious gem. A modern master builder with a talent for restoration stripped away the roof and siding leaving only the old stone foundation and massive hand hewn supporting beams. The Amish people who built this structure 150 years ago would not recognize it now. It has the feeling of spaciousness of a modern ski lodge with its 22 x 32 living room with fireplace. The original stone foundation is being repainted to highlight a 26 x 30 rec room with fireplace. There is a modern eat-in kitchen, 4 bedrooms, a den, 2 1/2 baths and attached 2 car garage. Exterior is rough cedar siding for freedom from maintenance problems. It's on 3.6 rolling acres and it's priced at $89,000

PRICE INFLATED? Not here. Where else can you find 3 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, living room, dining room, big modern kitchen-family room combination, a brick patio, central air conditioning and all appliances including big refrigerator, dishwasher, self-cleaning oven, washer and dryer for $36,500. You may also assume 7% mortgage if qualified.

DO COLONIAL HOMES ON WOODED LOTS APPEAL TO YOU? We have four beauties in nearby Lawrence Township from $46,500 to $51,900. Same with air conditioning, some with fireplaces.

What to do until the industrial revolution is recalled
by the factory.

Come see the Canes, in Rosemont, New Jersey. They've kept alive the love of hand-worked woods and simple lines in home furnishings. Most of the things you'll find at Cane Farm are hand-made, either right on the farm or in the shops of other artisans. The other pieces, such as our extensive collection of upholstered pieces, are made in factories, true, but they're made by firms who conceal that fact very well. Come see our hundreds of colonial creations and recreations.

Nautical and very nice lamps of copper and brass and glass. This one, 14" tall, available as a burning version, or with socket, ready for wiring.

SHE'S PROUD OF HER AGE

But, like so many lovely ladies, this graceful Princeton dowager has one or two secrets she'd rather conceal. We, however, have decided to tell all in the hope that you'll love her despite her faults. First of all, she stands awfully close to a busy road, and then there's the matter of a little cosmetic surgery. Other than that she's great! Through center hall, double living room with fireplace, large dining room, kitchen, 4 bedrooms and 3 baths on the second floor. 3 bedrooms, bath and skylit studio on the third. Above ground lower level with fireplace. Double decker screened porch. Wide pine floors and fascinating detail. On 1.9 acres with subdivision of a most saleable building lot a distinct possibility. her price tag is $75,000

I SAVED A HOUSE

An irregular house, not large, not small (8 rooms, 4 beds, 1 1/2 baths), not very old (100). Not a single fireplace (tho a Franklin stove is possible). And exposed beams and wide floor boards in the dining room only. It's not for tall people either but there's something about it, a charm without being "charming," weathered shingles, the set back privacy of its 2.4 acres abounding in pine, cherry, pear and apple trees, even a grapevine. A rambling barn plus garage, a dining patio and you're surrounded and protected by 100 acres of fields for riding or roaming. The house has new heating, plumbing, wiring, mostly decorated but is definitely unfinished. Great for children, rabbits, horses and parents who occasionally buy irregulars. (That is, one of a kind). Call 466-0990 or 921-9192 for iced tea and the tuppenny tour.

Have you wanted to watch your youngsters walk all the way to school? This 3 bedroom split level in Princeton Twp. is ideally located for just that. The back yard is heavily treed and the house is in excellent condition. The living room has a fireplace, separate dining room, utility room and a family room. $49,900

Sitting in the edge of the trees in a park like setting is this lovely rancher. The house itself gives a feeling of openness with its high cathedral ceiling in the living room, a free standing fireplace between living room and dining room, glass gliders from the family room to lovely patio. There are 3 bedrooms and 2 full baths. In tip top condition and with wall-to-wall carpeting throughout. On 1 1/2 acres in Montgomery Township. $59,500

If you are considering a newly built home to decorate as you please, then here is a Colonial that may interest you. Still under construction, the facade will be of aluminum siding for minimum upkeep. The family room has a fireplace and there are 4 bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths. Full basement with high ceiling—grand for a future playroom. Located in a nice area of West Windsor on a 3/4 acre lot. $56,900

The very desirable floor plan of this Ranch—Cape Cod type house and the comfort of big rooms—the perfect answer for the larger family. There are 6 bedrooms and 4 full baths. The family room has a fireplace and glass gliders to the outdoors. Conveniently located in West Windsor. $63,500

This large family home contains the comfort of big rooms and a feeling of spaciousness. Located amongst other fine homes in Stony Brook. There is a fish pond with a rock garden around it and many specimen trees and shrubs. The paneled family room opens to a nice screened porch. There are 2 fireplaces, 3-car garage, kitchen has loads of cabinets, 2 ovens and separate breakfast area. There is a total of 5 bedrooms. $83,500

For gracious living at its best — exquisite from the exterior design to the professionally landscaped grounds with swimming pool and to the equally attractive interior. Features are so numerous we are not able to list them all. There are five bedrooms, 3 baths plus maid's room and bath. Located on Independence Drive, one of Princeton's choice locations. $149,000
